

BENNETT S. LEBOW COLLEGE OF BUSINESS

Drexel University's market-driven curricula and world-class reputation in applied learning shapes students' academic experiences in the Bennett S. LeBow College of Business. Experiential learning is at the core of everything, providing students with insider knowledge and influential networks through industry partnerships. From term-long consulting projects to international residencies with some of the world's top companies, Drexel LeBow provides ample opportunities for students to gain practical experience before graduation.

LeBow's place in the heart of Philadelphia provides a powerful connection to internationally recognized organizations in the city and nearby economic, technology, and governmental hubs. Additionally, many of the College's cutting-edge degree programs offer flexible full-time and part-time options to fit your schedule.

Taught by expert faculty who connect research to action and students to opportunity, LeBow's rigorous AACSB-accredited curriculum equips students with the most relevant and applicable knowledge needed to succeed in their careers. Each Drexel LeBow graduate student receives an individual career coach to support them in achieving their career goals, whether that's finding an internship, switching career paths, or earning that promotion. The Graduate Career Services team also offers skills-based and networking workshops to support students' professional goals.

Informed by the latest technology and academic principles, students graduate and join the ranks of alumni who have impacted the world through business and innovation. The next generation of leadership begins here.
