Independent Auditor's Report

To the Board of Trustees
Philadelphia Health and Education Corporation:

We have audited the accompanying consolidated financial statements of Philadelphia Health and Education Corporation, doing business as Drexel University College of Medicine, and its subsidiary, (the "College") which comprise the consolidated statements of financial position as of June 30, 2014 and 2013, and the related consolidated statements of activities and cash flows for the year then ended.

Management's Responsibility for the Consolidated Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the consolidated financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the consolidated financial statements. The procedures selected depend on our judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, we consider internal control relevant to the College's preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the College's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the consolidated financial statements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the consolidated financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Philadelphia Health and Education Corporation, doing business as Drexel University College of Medicine, and its subsidiary at June 30, 2014 and 2013, and the results of their operations and their cash flows for the years then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements
June 30, 2014 and 2013

1. Organization and Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Organization

The Philadelphia Health & Education Corporation, doing business as Drexel University College of Medicine (the "College" or "Corporation"), is a research university concentrating in medical and related education located in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. On July 1, 2002, the Corporation became a non-profit affiliate of Drexel University ("Drexel"), a Philadelphia non-profit corporation. The Corporation is an exempt organization under Section 501 (c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code.

Merger

In the spring of 2012 President John Fry appointed an internal task force to assess the advantages and disadvantages of continuing to maintain a legal and practical separation between Drexel University ("Drexel") and the Philadelphia Health & Education Corporation ("PHEC") d/b/a Drexel University College of Medicine ("DUCOM"), colloquially known as the "Firewall." The task force recommended eliminating the Firewall by merging PHEC into Drexel ("Recommendation"). The Recommendation of a merger of PHEC with and into Drexel was adopted by resolutions of the PHEC Board of Trustees on February 7, 2013 and the Drexel Board of Trustees on February 20, 2013.

In accordance with the resolutions, PHEC will merge with and into Drexel, and the separate existence of PHEC will cease, effective July 1, 2014. Drexel shall continue its existence under the Pennsylvania Non-profit Corporation Law of 1988 as the surviving corporation. Drexel will succeed to and take possession of all PHEC property and assets of every kind, whether real, personal or mixed and will be responsible and liable for all of the liabilities, debts and obligations of PHEC.

On April 11, 2014, the Philadelphia County Court of Common Pleas, Orphans' Court Division approved the merger of PHEC into Drexel, including the transfer of all of the assets of PHEC to Drexel with a target effective date of July 1, 2014.

As a result of the merger, effective as of July 1, 2014, the Schuylkill Crossing Reciprocal Risk Retention Group will terminate its license to provide insurance. All prior risks will be novated, substituted, and assumed by the Drexel University Medical Professional Self-Insurance Trust for the primary layer and by a newly-formed captive, Dragon Risk Limited, Co. for the excess layers.

Schuylkill Crossing Reciprocal Risk Retention Group

The Schuylkill Crossing Reciprocal Risk Retention Group (the "RRRG"), a majority-owned subsidiary of the College, operates to provide primary coverage for claims-made medical professional liability insurance for health care professionals employed by the College. Ownership of the RRRG was split 87% and 13% between the College and Drexel, respectively, through November 9, 2010. Effective November 10, 2010, the ownership allocation was adjusted to 85% for the College and 15% for Drexel (Note 12).

Drexel University College of Medicine and Subsidiary Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements June 30, 2014 and 2013

At June 30, 2014 and 2013, assets of the RRRG totaled $25,591,000 and $36,771,000, respectively, and ownership equity was $2,173,000 and $12,393,000, respectively. The balances and activities of the RRRG, including the noncontrolling interest, are included in the accompanying consolidated financial statements. Changes in unrestricted net assets attributable to the controlling and noncontrolling interests for the year ended June 30, 2014 were as follows:

Unrestricted net assets at June 30, 2013	$ 32,336	$ 2,629	$ 34,965

Affiliations and Agreements

The College is party to an Academic Affiliation Agreement with Tenet Healthcare Corporation ("Tenet") intended to establish a relationship to foster continued coordination and integration between the College and Tenet hospitals. This agreement, dated November 10, 1998 and subsequently amended on April 25, 2002, is effective until June 30, 2022 and may be renewed thereafter for separate and successive five-year terms. Under the terms of the agreement, the College commits to furnish administrative, supervisory, and teaching services and physician support and services to Tenet at budgeted levels through June 30, 2022 (Note 14).

The College is party to an agreement to provide teaching and administrative services to Drexel for the education of Drexel's medical students and students in the health professions. The agreement, which automatically renews annually, is effective until June 30, 2014. In addition, the College has engaged Drexel to provide services and personnel for its administrative and academic operations (Note 14).

Significant Accounting Policies Basis of Accounting

The financial statements have been prepared on the accrual basis of accounting in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America for not-for-profit organizations. Net assets, revenues, gains, expenses and losses are classified as unrestricted, temporarily restricted or permanently restricted based on the existence or absence of donor-imposed restrictions as follows:

Permanently Restricted

Net assets subject to donor-imposed stipulations that they be maintained permanently by the College. Generally, donors of these assets permit the use of all or part of the income earned on these assets.

Temporarily Restricted

Net assets subject to donor-imposed restrictions that can be fulfilled by actions of the College in accordance with those stipulations or by the passage of time. The College classifies gifts to acquire long-lived assets as temporarily restricted net assets. The release of restriction occurs when the asset is placed in service.

Drexel University College of Medicine and Subsidiary Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements June 30, 2014 and 2013

Unrestricted

Net assets not subject to donor-imposed restrictions. These net assets may be designated for specific purposes by action of the Board of Trustees or may otherwise be limited by contractual agreements with outside parties. Expenses are shown as decreases in unrestricted net assets. Expirations of donor-imposed stipulations are reported as net assets released from restrictions. Gains and losses on investments are reported as increases or decreases in unrestricted net assets unless explicit donor stipulation or law restricts their use.

Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents represent demand deposits and other investments with an initial maturity date not exceeding 90 days. Included in cash and cash equivalents are amounts which are limited in use by agency agreements, such as Federal government loan programs and Board mandated self-insurance liability funding. Amounts restricted as of June 30, 2014 and 2013 were $4,576,000 and $4,004,000, respectively.

Contributions Receivable

Contributions and unconditional pledges are recorded at the present value of their expected future cash flows.

Beneficial Interests in Trusts

The College is the beneficiary of the income of these funds but has neither possession nor control of the investments. Beneficial interests in trusts are recorded at the present value of their expected future cash flows (Note 3) and are primarily composed of equity and fixed income securities. The primary unobservable inputs used in the fair value measurement of the trusts are the underlying securities held by the trust. Significant fluctuation in the securities utilized in this calculation could result in a material change in fair value.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

The College applies fair value measurements to contributions receivable in the year of receipt, beneficial interests in trusts, endowment investments, self-insurance escrow funds, deposits with bond trustees and annuities. A reasonable estimate of the fair value of student loans receivable under government loan programs and refundable federal student loans could not be made because the loans cannot be sold and can only be assigned to the U.S. Government or its designees. These loans are recorded at cost, less allowance for doubtful accounts and the carrying value of the loans receivable from students under PHEC's loan programs approximate fair value. See Notes 2, 3, 6 and 10 for additional fair value disclosures.

Patient Care Activities

Faculty physicians participate in several physician practice plans that are managed by the College. Revenue and expenses related to these practice plans are recorded by the College as patient care activities. Patient care activities include patient service revenue and other physician service activities.

Patient service revenue is reported at the estimated net realizable amounts due from patients, third-party payers and others for services rendered. The College provides care to patients under various reimbursement arrangements, including Medicare and Medicaid. These arrangements provide payment for covered services at agreed-upon rates under certain fee schedules and various discounts. Provisions have been made in the consolidated financial statements to estimate contractual adjustments, representing the difference between the customary charges for services rendered and related reimbursement, as well as, an allowance for bad debt.

Drexel University College of Medicine and Subsidiary Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements June 30, 2014 and 2013

Nonoperating Activities

Nonoperating activities include permanently restricted contributions, loss on the disposal of equipment, gain on investments net of the endowment spending rule, and settlement of claims related to AHERF.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amount of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

3. Fair Value of Financial Instruments

The three-level hierarchy for fair value measurements is based on observable and unobservable inputs to the valuation of an asset or liability at the measurement date. It prioritizes the inputs to the valuation techniques used to measure fair value by giving the highest priority to unadjusted quoted prices in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (Level 1 measurements) and the lowest priority to measurements involving significant unobservable inputs (Level 3 measurements). Fair value is defined as the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants ("exit price") at the measurement date.

The College maximizes the use of observable inputs and minimizes the use of unobservable inputs when measuring fair value. When available, fair value is based on actively-quoted market prices. In the absence of actively-quoted market prices, price information from external sources, including broker quotes and industry publications, is used. If pricing information from external sources is not available, or if observable pricing is not indicative of fair value, judgment is required to develop the estimates of fair value. In those cases, prices are estimated based on available historical financial data or comparable investment vehicles that reflect widely accepted market valuation practices.

In some cases, the inputs used to measure fair value might fall in different levels of the fair value hierarchy. In those cases, the lowest level input that is significant to a fair value measurement in its entirety determines the applicable level in the fair value hierarchy. Assessing the significance of a particular input to the fair value measurement in its entirety requires judgment and consideration of factors specific to the asset. Fair value measurements are categorized as Level 3 when a significant amount of price or other inputs, considered to be unobservable, are used in their valuations. The fair value hierarchy and inputs to valuation techniques are as follows:

Level 1 Quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets and liabilities at the measurement date. Instruments categorized in Level 1 primarily consist of a broadly-traded range of equity and debt securities and funds held by bond trustees.

Drexel University College of Medicine and Subsidiary Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements June 30, 2014 and 2013

- Level 2 Inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are either directly or indirectly observable for the asset or liability, including quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in active markets, inputs other than quoted prices that are observable for the asset or liability and inputs that are derived from observable market data by correlation or other means. Instruments categorized in Level 2 primarily include nonexchange-traded fixed income securities, structured products, certain bond investments and real estate and real assets funds.
- Level 3 Unobservable inputs for the asset or liability including situations where there is little, if any, market activity for the asset or liability. Instruments categorized in Level 3 consist of partnership investments in hedge funds, alternative and private equities, annuity liabilities, contributions receivable and real estate and real assets fund (Note 6).

As a practical expedient, the College is permitted to estimate the fair value of an investment in an investment company at the measurement date using the reported net asset value (NAV). The fair values of alternative investments represent the College's ownership interest in the NAV of the respective fund. Investments held by the fund consist of marketable securities as well as securities that do not have readily determinable fair values. The fair values of the securities held that do not have readily determinable fair values are based on appraisals or other estimates that require varying degrees of judgment. If no public market exists for the investment securities, the fair value is determined by taking into consideration, among other things, the cost of the securities, prices of recent significant placements of securities of the same issue, and subsequent developments concerning the companies and industries to which the securities relate.

- a. This category includes investments in hedge funds that invest primarily in U.S. common stocks with both long and short strategies. Management of the hedge funds has the ability to shift investments from value to growth strategies, from small to large capitalization stocks and from a net long position to a net short position. The fair values of the investments have been estimated using the net asset value per share of the hedge fund.
- b. This category invests in hedge funds that pursue multiple strategies to diversify risks and reduce volatility. At June 30, 2014 and 2013, respectively, the composite portfolio includes approximately 58% and 48% in distressed investments with a liquidation period of 1 to 3 years, 26% and 23% in arbitrage opportunities, 5% and 17% in cash, 6% and 9% in long/short equity and 5% and 3% in private equity investments which can never be redeemed with the funds. the portfolio. If these investments were held, it is estimated that the underlying assets would be liquidated over the next 1 to 3 years. The fair value has been estimated using the net asset value per share of the hedge fund.

- c. This category includes investments in hedge funds that invest in debt of companies in or facing bankruptcy. The investment managers seek to liquidate these investments in 1 to 3 years. The fair value has been estimated using the net asset value per share of the hedge fund.
- d. This category includes investment in hedge funds that invest in U.S. mortgage backed securities. The fair value has been estimated using the net asset value per share of the hedge fund.
- e. This category includes investments in private equity funds that invest in the secondary market. The private equity secondary market refers to the buying and selling of pre-existing investor commitments to private equity and other alternative investment funds. These investments can never be redeemed with the funds. Instead, distributions are received through the liquidation of the underlying assets of the fund. If the investments were held, it is estimated that the underlying assets of the fund would be liquidated over 1 to 9 years at June 30, 2014 (2 to 12 years at June 30, 2013). The fair value has been estimated using the net asset value per share of the private capital fund.
- f. This category includes investments in private equity funds that invest primarily in technology and healthcare companies in the U.S. These investments can never be redeemed with the funds. Instead, distributions are received through the liquidation of the underlying assets of the fund. If these investments were held, it is estimated that the underlying assets of the funds would be liquidated over 1 to 2 years at June 30, 2014 (1 to 3 years at June 30, 2013). The fair value has been estimated using the net asset value per share of the private capital fund.
- g. This category includes investments in private equity funds that invest in the distressed asset and middle market corporate distressed markets. These investments can never be redeemed with the funds. Instead, distributions are received through the liquidation of the underlying assets of the fund. If these investments were held, it is estimated that the underlying assets of the fund would be liquidated over 6 to 9 years at June 30, 2014 (new investment in 2014). The fair value has been estimated using the net asset value per share of the private capital fund.
- h. This category includes investments in private equity funds that invest in newly started hedge funds that pursue multiple strategies. The fund provides start-up funding to hedge funds of various strategies with the potential to share in the appreciation of the investment, as well as to share in the management fees gathered by the underlying start-up hedge funds. As of June 30, 2014 and 2013, respectively, the fund's underlying investments were 52% and 53% in long/short global equity, 8% and 10% in macro and commodity trading, 20% and 13% in diversified credit, 9% and 12% in arbitrage opportunities, and 11% and 12% in global event-driven opportunities. These investments can never be redeemed with the funds. Instead, distributions are received through the liquidation of the underlying assets of the fund. If these investments were held, it is estimated that the underlying assets would be liquidated in 2 to 7 years at June 30, 2014 (2 to 7 years at June 30, 2013). The fair value has been estimated using the net asset value per share of the private capital fund.

Drexel University College of Medicine and Subsidiary Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements June 30, 2014 and 2013

- i. This category includes investments in private equity funds that provide mezzanine debt financing to middle market firms. Mezzanine debt differs from mortgage debt in that the mezzanine debt is backed by equity interests in the borrowing firm, versus mortgage financing which is backed by the asset. These investments can never be redeemed. Instead, distributions are received through the liquidation of the underlying assets of the fund. If these investments were held, it is estimated that the underlying assets of the fund would be liquidated over 2 to 8 years at June 30, 2014 (3 to 8 years at June 30, 2013). The fair value has been estimated using the net asset value per share of the private capital fund.
- j. This category includes investments in private equity funds that invest primarily in real assets (e.g. Investments with intrinsic value, such as real estate or commodities). These investments can never be redeemed with the funds. Instead, distributions are received through the liquidation of the underlying assets of the fund. If these investments were held, it is estimated that the underlying assets of the fund would be liquidated over 4 to 8 years at June 30, 2014 (4 to 11 years at June 30, 2013). The fair value has been estimated using the net asset value per share of the real asset fund.
- k. This category includes investments in private equity funds that invest in U.S. commercial real estate. These investments can never be redeemed. Instead, distributions are received through the liquidation of the underlying assets of the fund. At June 30, 2014 and 2013, respectively, the fund's underlying investments would be liquidated over the following time frames: 47% and 31% in 1 to 4 years, 53% and 52% in 5 to 7 years, and 0% and 17% in 8 to 10 years. The fair value has been estimated using the net asset value per share of the real estate fund.

The net change in the assets included in the Level 3 fair value category using significant unobservable inputs as of June 30 is as follows:

4. Endowment Funds

The College has an investment policy for endowment assets designed to maximize the total return on the assets invested within an acceptable level of risk consistent with long-term preservation of the real value of the funds. The goal is to manage the portfolio for risk as well as total return, consistent with fiduciary standards of the prudent investor rule.

To satisfy its rate-of-return objectives, the College relies on a total return strategy in which investment returns are achieved through both capital appreciation (realized and unrealized) and current yield (interest and dividends). Endowment assets are invested in several asset classes and subclasses thereof to moderate the volatility of the returns of the total portfolio.

The College's endowment funds include both donor-restricted funds and funds designated by the Board of Trustees to function as endowments (quasi endowments). Net assets associated with endowment funds are classified and reported based on the existence or absence of donor-imposed restrictions. Board-designated temporarily restricted endowment funds represent donor-restricted funds which the Board has earmarked for endowment purposes. The earnings on these funds are utilized by the College in a manner consistent with specific donor restrictions on the original contributions.

For the years ended June 30, 2014 and 2013, the College had an endowment spending rule that limited the spending of endowment resources to 4.75% of the average fair value of the pooled endowment portfolio for the prior seven fiscal years. To the extent that current yield is inadequate to meet the spending rule, a portion of cumulative realized net gains is available for current use.

Interpretation of Relevant Law

The Board of Trustees of the College has interpreted Pennsylvania Act 141 ("PA Act 141") as requiring the preservation of the fair value of the original gift as specified in the individual trust instruments. As a result of this interpretation, the College classifies as permanently restricted net assets (a) the original value of gifts donated to the permanent endowment, (b) the original value of subsequent gifts to the permanent endowment, and (c) accumulations to the permanent endowment made in accordance with the direction of the applicable donor gift instruments at the time the accumulation is added to the fund. The remaining portion of the donor-restricted endowment fund that is not classified in permanently restricted net assets is classified as temporarily restricted net assets until those amounts are appropriated for expenditure by the College in a manner consistent with the standard of prudence prescribed by PA Act 141.

Endowment net asset composition by type of fund is as follows:

Endowment Funds with Deficiencies

From time to time, the fair value of some assets associated with individual donor-restricted endowment funds may fall below the level that donors require to be retained as a perpetual fund, while other assets maintain or exceed the level required. In accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States, the aggregate amount of the deficiencies is reported as a reduction in unrestricted net assets on the consolidated statement of activities. Subsequent investment gains will be used to restore the balances to the fair market value of the original amount of the gift. Subsequent gains above that amount will be recorded as temporarily restricted net assets. Aggregate deficiencies were $519,000 and $3,796,000 at June 30, 2014 and 2013, respectively.

5. Accounts and Loans Receivable

Accounts receivable are reported at their net realizable value. Accounts are written off against the allowance for doubtful accounts when they are determined to be uncollectible based upon management's assessment of individual accounts. The allowance for doubtful accounts is estimated based on the College's historical losses and periodic review of individual accounts. Interest is not accrued on the balances.

Accounts receivable, net of allowances, as of June 30 were as follows:

Student loans are disbursed based on financial need and include loans granted by the College from institutional resources and under Federal government loan programs. Students have a grace period until repayment is required based upon the earlier of graduation or no longer achieving full-time status. The grace period varies depending on the type of loan. Loans accrue interest after the grace period and are repaid directly to the College. Student loans are uncollateralized and carry default risk. At June 30, 2014 and 2013, student loans represented 3% of total assets.

Drexel University College of Medicine and Subsidiary Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements June 30, 2014 and 2013

The availability of funds for loans under Federal government revolving loan programs is dependent on reimbursements to the pool from repayments of outstanding loans. Funds advanced by the Federal government of $14,008,000 and $13,757,000 at June 30, 2014 and 2013, respectively, are ultimately refundable to the government and are classified as liabilities in the statements of financial position. Outstanding loans cancelled under the program result in a reduction of the funds available for loans and a decrease in the liability to the government. Student loans consisted of the following:

Balances at end of year	 (1,207)		(1,404)
Student loans receivable, net	$ 9,432	$	10,864

Allowances for doubtful accounts are established based on prior collection experience and current economic factors which, in management's judgment, could influence the ability of loan recipients to repay the amounts according to the terms of the loan. Further, the College does not evaluate the credit quality of student loans receivable after the initial approval of the loan. Student loans are considered past due when payment is not received within 30 days of the due date, and interest continues to accrue until the loan is paid in full or written off. When student loans receivable are deemed uncollectible, an allowance for doubtful accounts is established.

The College considers the age of the amounts outstanding in determining the collectability of student loans receivable. The aging of student loans receivable based on days delinquent and the related allowance for doubtful accounts at June 30, 2014 and 2013 is as follows:

6. Contributions Receivable

Unconditional pledges are reported as contributions receivable and revenue in the appropriate net asset category. Contributions receivable are recorded net of a discount based on current yields for two-to-ten year U.S. Treasury notes, which averaged 1.5% and 1.2% at June 30, 2014 and 2013, respectively. The College considers these discount rates to be a Level 3 input in the context of FASB ASC 820-10 (Note 3).

Net contributions receivable as of June 30 were as follows:

The College has received the majority of its artwork through gifts. Artwork items received by gift prior to 1996 are carried at their 1996 appraised (insured) value. Depreciation and amortization is recorded using the straight-line method. Estimated useful lives are as follows: furniture, fixtures and medical equipment, between 5 and 10 years; computer equipment, 3 years; and software, 5 years. Leasehold improvements and buildings and improvements are amortized over the lesser of their useful lives or the term of the lease.

The College determined that it has legal obligations related to the retirement of certain facilities and equipment. At June 30, 2014 and 2013, the asset retirement costs totaled $66,000 and $69,000, respectively, and the related obligation totaled $257,000 and $245,000, respectively. 10. Bonds and Notes Payable

The Pennsylvania Higher Educational Facilities Authority, Drexel University College of Medicine Revenue Bonds, Series of 2007, was issued during fiscal 2008 in the amount of $21,985,000. The proceeds (1) refunded a mortgage loan; (2) financed capital improvements and equipment for the College's Medical Office Building located at 219 North Broad Street, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, and other facilities used by the College and (3) funded capitalized interest, a debt service reserve fund and other associated costs. Interest accrues at fixed rates from 3.75% to 5% through the 2037 maturity date. The bonds are secured by a security interest in the College's unrestricted revenues, and Drexel has guaranteed to replenish the debt service reserve fund in the event the College fails to do so.

At June 30, 2014, the outstanding bonds, including premium, amounted to $20,433,000 and had a fair value of $20,382,000. 13. Commitments and Contingencies

Healthcare Legislation and Regulation

The healthcare industry is subject to numerous laws and regulations of Federal, State and Local governments. These laws and regulations include, but are not necessarily limited to, matters such as licensure, accreditation, government healthcare program participation requirements and reimbursement for patient services. Federal government activity has continued with respect to investigations and allegations concerning possible violation of billing regulations by healthcare providers. Violations of these regulations could result in the imposition of significant fines and penalties and have a significant effect on reported changes in net assets or cash flow.

Management believes that the College is in compliance with applicable government laws and regulations. While no regulatory inquiries have been made, compliance with such laws and regulations can be subject to future government review and interpretation as well as regulatory actions unknown or unasserted at this time.

Litigation

The nature of the educational and healthcare industries is such that, from time to time, claims will be presented against the College on account of alleged negligence, acts of discrimination, medical malpractice, breach of contract or disagreements arising from the interpretation of laws or regulations. While some of these claims may be for substantial amounts, they are not unusual in the ordinary course of providing educational and healthcare services at a large institution. In the opinion of management, after consultation with legal counsel, the ultimate disposition of these matters will not have a materially adverse effect on the College's financial condition or results of operations.

Other Commitments and Contingencies

The College maintains a letter of credit in the amount of $225,000 required by the Department of Environmental Protection related to the disposal of nuclear medical waste. It will expire on May 14, 2015 and is renewed annually. There was no amount outstanding as of June 30, 2014 or 2013.
