

METRO PHILADELPHIA INTERNSHIPS

Metro Philadelphia is looking for interns interested in news, entertainment, sports, photography and the Web. Metro internships are unpaid, but you are given unlimited opportunity to both develop your skills and get clips.

At Metro, you'll have a chance to do everything from covering a press conference with Mayor Michael Nutter, writing about a great band coming to town, or covering the Eagles.

Experience at a college newspaper or other newspaper or Web site is required. Interns are available for-credit this fall. Please send a resume and cover letter to Metro Philadelphia City Editor Josh Cornfield at JCornfield@metro.us.