Law Review Note Approval for Upper-Level Writing Requirement (WUL)

The process for creating and reviewing a note for WUL consideration is as follows:

1. Student applies to and is accepted by faculty advisor during the WUL fulfillment enrollment period.
2. Student and faculty advisor meet to discuss topic selection, after preemption check is completed.
3. Student provides faculty advisor with a copy of the outline and meets with the faculty member to discuss it.
4. Student provides faculty advisor with a copy of the complete 30-page draft. Faculty member either participates in the student's workshop or provides the student with separate feedback.
5. Faculty advisor signs off on the final Note in April.

Student Name

ID #

Note Advisor Name

By signing below, I certify that the above-named student has:

1. followed the process outlined above to receive Upper-Level Writing (WUL) credit for a note; and
2. submitted a Law Review Note that meets the standards for the Upper-Level Writing Requirement, including multiple drafts and revisions based on advisor feedback.

Note Advisor Approval Signature

Date Signed: ________________

Law Review Advisor Signature

Date Signed: ________________