

NURSING

The Bachelor of Science in Nursing (BSN) is an intensive full-time undergraduate program that prepares graduates for licensure as registered nurses. Students can choose either a five-year or a four-year co-op track. Both tracks include intensive immersion in nursing science as well as facilitated entrance into nursing practice.

The BSN Co-op program offers innovative courses and learning experiences that provide the knowledge and skills needed for success as professional nurses in today's rapidly changing technological and evidence-driven healthcare environment. Instruction integrates science, humanities, nursing knowledge and skills, and clinical experiences. Co-op employment opportunities are offered in healthcare and hospital settings.

Students wanting more specific information about the major are encouraged to visit the website at drexel.edu/cnhp.
