Fall Break: Cretan Civilizations
Greece
GST T380: Mediterranean Crossroads
This course offers students the opportunity to literally dive into the Greek experience through an empirical study of its rich multifaceted culture as it is expressed today on the island of Crete.

Winter Break: Development in Action
Guatemala
GST T380: Doing Development
Students will explore international development, including global and environmental health, women’s rights, and economic development, through site visits and service learning projects.
Nursing
While the list of programs are ideal for nursing majors because the coursework fits well into the Drexel curriculum, students are welcome to explore other options.

Rachel Maher, Health Sciences Accelerated BS/DPT Drexel in London
If you could do it all over again, would you do the same program? What (if anything) would you do differently?

“I would do the same program over again without question. I would not do anything differently. Even when things didn’t go quite as expected, being able figure out the problem and learn from my mistakes was part of the thrilling challenge and value of studying abroad.”
