

United States Department of the Interior is currently accepting entries for the 2013 Charles E. Peterson Prize Competition and the 2013 Leicester B. Holland Prize Competition

The Peterson Prize annually recognizes the best sets of architectural measured drawings produced by college students and submitted for the HABS Collection at the Library of Congress. The Prize, jointly sponsored with the AIA and the Athenaeum of Philadelphia, is named in honor of Charles E. Peterson, FAIA (1906-2004), a founder of the HABS program, and is intended to increase awareness, knowledge, and appreciation of historic buildings throughout the United States.

The Holland Prize annually recognizes the best single sheet drawing of a site appropriate for inclusion in the HABS, HAER or HALS Collection at the Library of Congress. The Prize, jointly sponsored with the AIA, the Library of Congress, Architectural Record magazine, and the Paul Rudolf Trust, is named in honor of Leicester B. Holland, FAIA (1882-1952), head of the Fine Arts Division at the Library of Congress and first curator of the HABS Collection. The competition, open to both students and professionals, is intended to promote appreciation of historic American architecture, engineering, and landscape architecture, and to honor excellence in delineation and composition.

Please share the above information regarding these wonderful opportunities with your colleagues, friends, and students.
