

General Information:

As you know from your application and orientation, all Drexel students are required to have access to a personal computer. While general computer specifications for the Westphal College can be found at www.drexel.edu/westphal/resources/technology/ComputerRequirements/, the Graphic Design program recommends the purchase of additional hardware and software to better suit the requirements of your chosen course of study. Because the equipment and software in our program is based entirely on the Apple Macintosh platform, we recommend Apple products for our students. If you have any questions or concerns, please feel free to contact Bill Rees, Assistant Program Director, Graphic Design at the following: 215-895-1836 / wbr24@drexel.edu.

Various equipment and software can be purchased by logging onto your DrexelOne account. Directions can be found on the following pages.

Drexel University students can also purchase Apple computers at The University of Pennsylvania "Computer Connection" Store. Online pricing for Drexel Students is unavailable. On the following website, www.drexel.edu/westphal/resources/technology/ComputerRequirements/ you will find the current UPenn flyer for 2013-14 Drexel University's Apple computer purchases, in addition to other computer suggestions. You may also visit the store itself for more information. Pricing is generally the same as Apple's educational prices. For hours and location, visit UPenn's web site at: cms.business-services.upenn.edu/computerstore/

If you would like to save some money, an Apple Certified Refurbished laptop or desktop is perfectly fine to purchase. You can find further information and pricing on Apple's website.

Drexel University's IRT (Information Resources & Technology) also has general computer information at the following web address: <http://www.drexel.edu/irt/>

- We highly suggest upgrading the memory on the computer to the maximum possible.
- Processor speed & hard drive capacity are a financial decision.
- We STRONGLY recommend purchasing the Apple Care Protection Plan.

Software:

The complete Adobe CS6 (Photoshop, Illustrator, InDesign, Dreamweaver, Flash, After Effects and Acrobat) and Microsoft Office for Mac 2011 are recommended but not a requirement. Adobe CS6 can be purchased via JourneyEd and Microsoft Office 2011 for Mac can be purchased via eAcademy. All of our Design Labs have the software installed for student use. Please see the following pages for further information on the Adobe Suite and Office 2011 purchases.

PLEASE NOTE: At the current time Drexel is NOT upgrading to the Adobe Cloud. If you have further questions concerning the new Adobe Cloud applications please see Bill Rees.

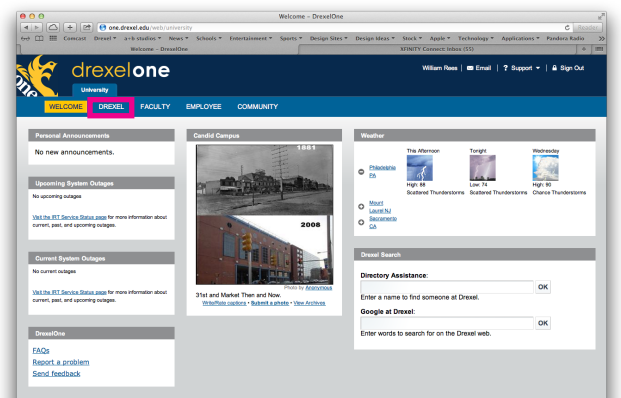

You can find additional support software by visiting Drexel's IRT site,
<http://www.drexel.edu/irt/software/download/>

The University offers direct links to software sites for students at huge discounts. Please follow the directions (pictured at right) to take advantage of these offers.

Drexel University, Graphic Design Program Computer, Software & Accessories Recommendations 2013-14

Miscellaneous Equipment:

A digital camera is required, but not until your sophomore year. Please wait to purchase any equipment until that time. Your photography professor will have specific requirements concerning a camera.

All labs are equipped with high-end color printers. A personal color printer is not required at this time.

In addition, we suggest having some way to transfer and access your files in and out of our design studios. A "cloud" base system such as DropBox or iCloud work great. You may also purchase a (16+ GB) USB Flash/Thumb drive and/or a portable hard drive, 1TB or larger, for transferring files between personal computers and computers in our design studios. We have also provided support for various Wacom Tablets. Students find this tool helpful when developing projects for certain courses. Wacom Tablets are not taught or needed for any of our graphic design courses, and are a personal preference for some students.
