HOUSING AT DREXEL UNIVERSITY FOR TRANSFER STUDENTS

ANTHONY CANERIS HALL

115

Welcome to Drexel University!

The Housing and Residence Life team is committed to providing you with an engaging residential experience that rewards your growth as a student and member of our campus community. Transfer students are not required to live on campus or in a Drexel Residence Hall. However, many choose to and find a unique academic design that integrates living and learning, helping you discover what it means to be a Dragon.

If you choose to live on campus, you will also have the pleasure of residing in the sixth largest city in America. From our booming arts and music scene to our world-renowned museums and eclectic food culture, we know that you will find your home in Philadelphia. Life at Drexel is an opportunity to learn, grow, build your community, and utilize the endless resources of this great city.

Living in a Drexel Residence Hall

At Drexel, your education is intertwined with your campus experience — we provide a campus community that complements both your studies and your development as a member of the University.

Transfer Student Housing Options

Drexel offers multiple housing options that include Drexel Residence Halls as well as Gender-Inclusive Housing.

Residence Halls

Below are the residence halls available for transfer students:

Caneris Hall: Suite style with two- and three-bedroom suites, an in-suite bathroom, and a kitchenette that includes a full-sized refrigerator, sink, and cabinet storage.

Stiles Hall: Located on Drexel's Center City Campus, Stiles Hall offers private bedrooms within fully furnished two- and three-bedroom apartments. Each student has their own bedroom but shares the full kitchen, living room, and bathroom with 1-2 other students. University bus shuttles run frequently between the Center City and University City campuses.

Gender-Inclusive Housing

Drexel offers Gender-Inclusive Housing (GIH) to support the University's ongoing commitment to developing environments that are welcoming and inclusive. GIH enhances the residential experience by allowing you to live in the same bedroom and share internal/external bathrooms regardless of assigned sex and/or gender expression. GIH is optional, and you must expressly state your desire for a GIH assignment. If interested, you may sign up for a GIH assignment when you complete your housing application.

How to Apply

The Housing application is available via DrexelOne after you have confirmed your enrollment and submitted your housing deposit.

The Housing Application will walk you through a lifestyle questionnaire, housing preferences, and the housing agreement. The priority deadline to complete the housing application is May 15. While housing assignments are not guaranteed for transfer students, Housing and Residence Life will try to accommodate as many transfer students as room allows. Room assignments will be made no later than August 1.
