

Drexel University

139th Commencement Ceremonies

Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

Dear Graduates,

It is a true privilege to celebrate this milestone with you. Today we celebrate your accomplishments and all that has brought you to this moment.

Your years of hard work, resilience and determination have led you here — a day to share with the people who supported you along the way and to take pride in how far you have come. This is not just the end of one chapter, but the beginning of the next in your academic, professional and personal journey.

As a first-generation college graduate, I carry a deep appreciation for what this achievement represents not only for you, but for your families and communities. You have opened doors that may not have existed before, and you have shown what's possible through perseverance and belief in your own potential. As you move forward, I hope you carry with you a sense of pride in all you have accomplished and confidence in all you are capable of achieving.

At Drexel, you have challenged yourselves in the classroom, engaged deeply in research and innovation, contributed meaningfully to the Philadelphia community and gained valuable real-world experience. You now move forward equipped not only with knowledge, but with the perspective and experience to make a lasting impact.

None of us reach milestones like this alone. In congratulating you, I want to recognize Drexel's dedicated faculty and professional staff, as well as your families, friends and mentors — the people who supported and encouraged you. Continue to seek their guidance, share your successes and remember they will continue to stand with you.

You leave Drexel as graduates, but you become part of a global alumni community. I encourage you to stay connected, serve as ambassadors of our University and mentor those who follow in your path.

The contributions you have made here have helped define our institution, and all that you achieve moving forward will continue to build upon that legacy. The world needs your ideas, energy and leadership.

With pride and great optimism, I congratulate you and wish you purpose, fulfillment and success in all that lies ahead.

Sincerely,
