

2024–2025 Noncustodial Parent Supplemental Waiver Request — Instructions

In certain circumstances, Drexel University requires first-year applicants to submit information about their noncustodial parent, using the Noncustodial Parent Supplemental Worksheet, in order to be considered for institutional need-based aid. Drexel may waive the requirement of noncustodial parent information based on select criteria.

Please note that a parent's unwillingness to provide information is not grounds for requesting a waiver for this information.

Instructions

Please follow these instructions when completing this request:

- Complete all applicable sections of this request.
- Please attach with this request separate personal statements from both you and your custodial parent explaining precisely why your noncustodial parent cannot complete the Noncustodial Parent Supplemental Worksheet. Include information about the history and current status of your relationship with your noncustodial parent, including the frequency of contact you have had, a history of any financial support received, and any other information that you believe will help us better understand the circumstances for this request.
- Include supporting documentation with your request and personal statement. This step is required. Documentation can include a letter from an attorney, member of the clergy, therapist, teacher, guidance counselor, or other non-family member who is familiar with your circumstances and is in a position to verify your explanation of the situation. We will also accept legal/court documents that specifically declare that your noncustodial parent is unable to provide financial support. Be sure the individual writing on your behalf includes their name, address, phone number, and relationship to you. Any documentation you submit becomes the property of Drexel University and will not be returned, so please do not send originals.
- Make sure all documentation you submit includes your 8-digit University ID.
