

Special Education and Autism

The percentage of students in special education served in the autism category varies by state. The national average is 8.3%

Hover over each state to see the percent of special education students in that state who have an autism categorization. The national average is 8.3% of special education students in the autism category.

