Funding: University of Louisiana at Lafayette (Louisiana Department of Health), PI: N. Lee, 07/2015 – ongoing

Summary: This project aims to provide the Office of Alcohol and Tobacco Control with a representative sample of outlets to target for random unannounced checks, train Office of Alcohol and Tobacco Control staff to conduct random unannounced inspections, provide the total list of youth accessible outlets for education, analyze and report on Synar compliance, select a sample of outlets for targeted merchant education, and develop practice improvements related to the coverage study of the State's Tobacco License List and the report on Synar compliance.

Role: Principal Investigator

Title: A Mixed Methods Evaluation of the Philly Joy Bank

Funding: The Philadelphia City Fund, City of Philadelphia, Department of Public Health, PIs: E. Valdez, A. Groves, 08/2023 – 7/2026

Summary: The Philly Joy Bank is a guaranteed income pilot program designed to address financial instability for birthing parents to improve parental and infant health outcomes. The proposed evaluation study. The objective of our proposed evaluation is to understand how receipt of guaranteed income during and after pregnancy impacts parental mental health and prematurity (as well as other intermediate outcomes) using a mixed-methods design.

Title: Component B: Coordinating Center for Community Characteristics Associated with Geographic Disparities in Diabetes

Funding: Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (U01 DP006293), PI: L. McClure, 10/2017 – 09/2023

Summary: Informing policy regarding care for diabetes is important for impacting downstream outcomes. This project will assess different community characteristics that are associated with geographic disparities in diabetes, with a goal of impacting the community policies surrounding diabetes care. Our role is to serve as the coordinating center for this research.

Role: Co-Investigator

Title: Connecting the Dots: An RCT Integrating Standardized ASD Screening, High-Quality Treatment, and Long-Term Outcomes. An Autism Center of Excellence (ACE) Network

Funding: National Institute of Mental Health (R01MH115715), PI: D. Robins, 10/2017 – 06/2022

Summary: Children with autism spectrum disorder (ASD) who start treatment earlier have better outcomes; although universal toddler screening can detect many cases of ASD much younger than the national average, high quality, inconclusive outcome data means standardized screening is not always recommended. This study will clearly connect the dots demonstrating that screening lowers age of diagnosis and entry into ASD-specific treatment, which improves long-term outcomes.

Role: Co-Investigator

Title: Smoke-Free Housing Evaluation

Funding: Philadelphia Department of Public Health, PI: A. Klassen, 01/2012 – 06/2018

Summary: This project conducts formative and baseline evaluation to prepare for smoke-free policy implementation in the Philadelphia Housing Authority's public housing communities.

Role: Co-Investigator

Title: Prospective Evaluation of Air Pollution, Cognition, and Autism from Birth Onward (PECABO)

Funding: National Institute of Environmental Health Sciences (1R01 ES023780-01), PI: H. Volk, 04/2014 – 04/2018

Summary: This study will assess the association between prenatal air pollution exposure and risk of cognitive delays and autistic traits in two prospective samples - Markers of Autism Risk in Babies, Learning Early Signs (MARBLES) and Early Autism Risk Longitudinal Investigation (EARLI).

Role: Co-Investigator

Title: Eastern Region Autism Services, Education, Resources, and Training (ASERT)

Funding: Bureau of Autism Services, Pennsylvania Department of Human Services, PI: L. Shea, 07/2014 – 06/2015

Summary: ASERT is a key component of the Bureau of Autism's strategy for supporting individuals with autism and their families throughout the Commonwealth. ASERT connects existing resources and pockets of expertise, and address the regional gaps in effective services and supports. The Eastern Region ASERT at Drexel provides data analysis support of state-wide data from health, education, and justice agencies, and interprets and presents the analytical findings to policy-makers in the form of policy briefs, infographics, published reports and peer-reviewed papers, and through presentations and meetings.

Role: Co-Investigator

Title: Exposure to Airborne Pollutants and Associations with Autism Phenotype (PEAP)

Funding: Autism Speaks (AS 7938), PI: H. Volk, 02/2012 – 05/2015

Summary: This project examines exposure to hazardous air pollutants (HAPs) and its association with autism characteristics in children enrolled in the national Autism Genetic Resource Exchange (AGRE) program. Residential addresses for the AGRE cohort are geocoded to link the AGRE data with HAPs exposure data and US Census data for neighborhood or contextual covariables.

Funding: National Institute of Environmental Health Sciences (R01 ES017646), PI: D. Fallin/C. Newschaffer, 09/2009 – 06/2014

Summary: This project will take a comprehensive genome-wide approach to understand the interplay between genetics, epigenetics, and in utero environment in birth and early development phenotypes that are important predictors of adverse outcomes generally, and are related to ASD specifically.
