

Doctoral Student Funding Waiver

In order to sustain and grow the School's doctoral education programs, School of Public Health faculty are strongly encouraged to include doctoral student support on research grant budgets whenever possible. The integration of doctoral students in the research enterprise represents a critical component of their training and external support for doctoral students will provide necessary funding for expanding the school's doctoral education offerings.

This form must be completed whenever a doctoral student is budgeted on a grant to an external source and either the budgeted student wages and/or budgeted student tuition amounts are less than the required amounts listed in the DSPH policy document on this topic.
