

2022–2023 Dependency Override Request Instructions

What is a Dependency Override?

A Dependency Override occurs when a financial aid counselor exercises professional judgment to override the standard dependency criteria based on extenuating family circumstances. A Dependency Override can only be done in cases in which the student can provide a compelling reason for excluding parental information on the FAFSA and can provide supporting documentation that demonstrates the nature of the student/parent relationship.

What situation could warrant a Dependency Override?

The following are some examples that may warrant a dependency override if the circumstances can be documented. This list is not all-inclusive and the presence of one or more of these situations does not guarantee the approval of a dependency override:

- Documented abandonment — where your parent(s) voluntarily left or were absent for an extended period of time
- Unsafe living environment as a result of physical, emotional, sexual, or substance abuse by your parent(s)
- Parental incarceration
- Parental mental incapacity/institutionalization
- Death of custodial parent and no contact with other biological/legal parent
- Parents do not reside in the United States and cannot be contacted
- Parent(s) disowned or ended contact/support because of conflicting beliefs or practices related to race, religion, education, health, gender, sexual orientation, cultural expectations, etc.

By federal law, the following circumstances DO NOT warrant a dependency override, individually or in combination:

- Parent(s) do not claim you as a dependent for income tax purposes or they don't file taxes even though they are legally required to
- Parent(s) are unable or unwilling to contribute to your education
- Parent(s) refuse to provide their information on the FAFSA, or, if needed, to complete the verification process
- You're unwilling to ask your parent(s) to complete the FAFSA
- You're completely self-sufficient (have a job, live on your own, pay your own bills, etc.)
- Supporting a boyfriend or girlfriend financially
- Supporting a child of which you do not have legal custody
