Drexel University’s Main Campus is also known as the University City campus.

Drexel’s interdisciplinary approach to applied education is part of what makes us stand out, in Philadelphia and around the world. At Drexel, we value experiential learning, which is a process through which our students develop knowledge, skills, and values from direct experiences outside a traditional academic setting. This is highly visible on campus as you will notice a diverse array of research and policy centers, arts and cultural events, international restaurants, and student-operated coffee shops. Drexel has a wide variety of places to eat and socialize with the campus community. Pages 20-22 of this guidebook feature international cuisines that can be found on campus and around Philadelphia!

Drexel is also an inclusive and diverse place. Our Office for Institutional Equity and Inclusive Culture (EIC) supports the promotion of a living, learning, and working environment that incorporates diversity, equality, fairness, inclusion, and respect for individuals. Drexel’s Disability Resources Team is available to accommodate the needs of our students. Located at 3225 Arch Street, Suite 011, students should feel empowered to reach out for accommodations for any documented disability. All campus guests must complete the Campus Guests & Volunteers Accommodation Request Form in order for auxiliary aids, accommodations, and services to be provided. Disability Resources recommends submitting individual requests as soon as possible. Disability Resources considers all requests on a case-by-case basis and may request additional information from the guest in order to facilitate accommodation needs. Every effort will be made to secure accommodations in a timely fashion. When equipment is provided to a person with a disability, Disability Resources loans this equipment on a temporary basis. For more information regarding disability resources, click here.

Campus Safety and Security

Philadelphia is the largest city in the State of Pennsylvania and the sixth most populous city in the US. Similar to other major metropolitan areas, it is important to take the necessary precautions to ensure your personal safety and security. This is a shared responsibility by our entire community. Drexel's Public Safety department, including the Drexel Police, and in coordination with the Philadelphia Police Department, works hard to educate the community about the resources and services available for incident prevention and reporting, safety tips, victim support, and emergency preparedness. Be alert. Be aware. See something? Say something. Visit the Public Safety Website for more information.

Drexel's public spaces are intentionally designed to be well lit and animated at the street level at all times of day and feature “Blue Light” emergency direct-line telephones throughout our campuses for immediate assistance. Students, faculty, and staff are also encouraged to stay connected to Public Safety's 24/7 communications center by downloading the Drexel Guardian app and monitoring notifications provided by the DrexelALERT system. Students are also invited to utilize our Walking and Medical Escort services whenever they may feel unsafe or require assistance en route to a University-approved medical facility (in non-life-threatening medical situations).

Drexel Public Safety Phone Numbers:

For Emergencies:

911 or 215.895.2222
TTY: 215.571.4141

For Non-Emergencies, Lost Items, and Walking Escorts:

215.895.2222
TTY: 215.571.4141

Walking and Medical Escorts

Upon request, Public Safety security officers provide walking escorts for Drexel students, faculty and professional staff within our patrol boundaries: 30th to 36th streets and Chestnut to Spring Garden streets. This service is available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. For more information and to request a walking escort:

- Call Public Safety at 215.895.2222;
- Use one of the many building and blue-light emergency phones located across campus; or
- Ask any Public Safety officer on patrol or inside a building.

The Department of Public Safety provides medical escorts for non-life-threatening medical conditions to University-approved hospitals, emergency rooms and healthcare centers. Medical escorts are currently provided to the Hospital of the University of Pennsylvania and Presbyterian Hospital. You can reach Drexel's public safety at 215.895.2222.
Drexel Bookstores

Drexel University Barnes & Noble Bookstores are located on the University City and Queen Lane campuses and provide textbooks, school supplies, Drexel clothing and gifts, and general merchandise. Drexel bookstores also coordinate programs for ordering Convocation and Commencement regalia and class rings. Students can place textbook orders for new or rental textbooks through the bookstore's website.

Philadelphia, Pennsylvania’s largest city, is notable for its rich history on display at the Liberty Bell, Independence Hall (where the Declaration of Independence and Constitution were signed) and other American Revolutionary sites. Also, other points of interest are the steps of the Philadelphia Museum of Art, immortalized by Sylvester Stallone’s triumphant run in the film "Rocky."

Eastern State Penitentiary

2027 Fairmount Ave, Philadelphia, PA 19130

Eastern State Penitentiary was once the most famous and expensive prison in the world but stands today in ruin, a haunting world of crumbling cellblocks and empty guard towers. Its vaulted, sky-lit cells once held many of America's most notorious criminals, including "Slick Willie" Sutton and "Scarface" Al Capone. Tours of this historic prison are held daily throughout the day and at twilight. Discounted admission is offered to current Drexel students (with a valid Dragoncard). In the fall, the Penitentiary hosts its famous "Halloween Nights." Click here to learn about tours, hours, and events at Eastern State.
Southeastern Pennsylvania Transportation Authority (SEPTA) is Philadelphia's public transportation system that utilizes subways, trains, buses, and trolleys to take you wherever you want to go in the city and the surrounding suburbs. The fare is $2.50 in cash around the city, or you can purchase a reloadable transit card (called a SEPTA Key) and use it throughout your time at Drexel. These can be purchased from kiosks at every SEPTA station and can be used on both subways, as well as all trolleys and buses. If you use a SEPTA Key card, the fare drops to $2 per ride. Fares to the suburbs are higher and vary by zone and may require a separate ticket.

Subways & Trollies

Market-Frankford Line (Subway) – Partially following Market Street east–west, this line, also known as "The El" or "Blue Line" goes from Frankford Transportation Center (east) to 69th Street (west) with stops near Drexel's campus (34th and Market Streets and 30th Street Station). The El has blue signs. Students who wish to travel to Center City and Old City will utilize the Eastbound train. Students who wish to travel to African restaurants and markets will use the Westbound train. From 69th Street, the high-speed line runs to Norristown and points in between.

Broad Street Line (Subway) – Following Broad Street north–south, it goes from Fern Rock Station (north) to AT&T Station (south). The Subway signs are orange.

Trolleys – There are five numbered trolley routes that begin and end at 13th and Market Streets which pass Drexel (33rd and Market Streets and 30th Street Station). Signs are green.

Click here to visit SEPTA's Website for more information on Subway and Trolley schedules and fares.
Buses

Buses – The bus routes go through every neighborhood in the city. Routes 21, 30, 31, 42, and the LUCY loops are convenient to Drexel’s campus. More routes are available from 30th Street Station. Route signs are posted on poles near street corners.

Click here to visit SEPTA's website for bus schedules and routes.

Regional Rail & Airport Line

Regional Rail – The Regional Rail provides train service to the surrounding suburbs from 30th Street Station, University City, Suburban Station, and Jefferson Station. The Airport Line goes to and from Center City every half hour.

Airport Line – Connects Philadelphia’s International Airport Terminals to the major railroad transit hubs. The schedule is highly dependable and punctual and facilitates planning your trip to and from the airport at ease, especially with its fixed fare, in contrast to other taxi services whose fare and availability can vary based on demand.

Click here to visit SEPTA's website for Regional Rail routes and schedules.

SEPTA offers an app for passengers to track buses, trains, and the subway in real time. Follow this link here to download the mobile app.
Trains

Amtrak

Amtrak trains run out of Philadelphia's 30th Street Station (just a few blocks away from Drexel's Main Campus.) Here, you can take a train to nearby cities such as New York City, Washington D.C., and Boston.

Visit Amtrak's website here for train schedules and fares.

NJ Transit

NJ Transit provides trains to nearby New Jersey cities and shore points.

Visit NJ Transit's website here for train schedules and fares.

PATCO

The PATCO (Port Authority Transit Corporation) Speedline serves southern New Jersey with nine rail stops between Lindenwold and City Hall in Camden, NJ. Riders can visit the Camden Aquarium, Camden's baseball park, and Freedom Morgage Pavillion to see a concert. Riders can receive discounts from select places by showing their Drexel ID and PATCO ticket. You can also take PATCO to four Philadelphia Rail Stops allowing you to transfer to the SEPTA Market-Frankford Line at 8th and Market.

Visit PATCO'S website here for train schedules and fares.
Drexel Shuttle

Drexel operates shuttle buses in loops through University City, Center City, and the Queen Lane campuses for Drexel students and students with their Drexel ID (DragonCard). Drexel students are also invited to use UPENN buses free of charge (with a valid DragonCard).
Biking

Drexel's Bike Share

Drexel Bike Share is open to all students and employees with a valid Drexel University ID who are in good standing with the University. There is no rental fee to use a Drexel Bike Share bike. The general share time is two days or one weekend. All Bike Share equipment is picked up from the Bike Share Hub at the Drexel Parking Services Garage Office (33rd and Market Streets). Click here for more information about Drexel's Bike Share.

Indego - Philly's Bike Share

Philadelphia continues to be one of the most bike-friendly cities in the country with the launch of its own bike sharing program called Indego in the spring of 2015. Indego allows visitors or members to rent bicycles from 70+ stations located across Philadelphia in Center City and parts of North, South, and West Philadelphia. Cyclists can walk up to any Indego station and check out bikes for quick trips around the city 24 hours a day, seven days a week, and the system allows users to return their bike rental to the nearest station after their ride is complete. You can pay for Indego passes by the month or by the trip. Visit Indego's website for more information.

Ride Share Services

Uber & Lyft

Uber and Lyft provide a taxi service through their mobile phone apps. These are highly convenient since the fare is fixed by the app. These apps allow riders to put their pick-up location and destination in the app for a quick pick-up.

This is a preferred service instead of a taxi.
Dining On & Near Campus

DragonDollars

DragonDollars are funds that can be loaded onto your DragonCard and used like a debit card at Drexel Campus Dining locations, local dining and retail locations, and many vending machines on campus. DragonDollars do not expire. Learn more about DragonDollars and how to load them onto your DragonCard here.

Restaurants that Accept DragonDollars

DragonDollars can be used to purchase meals at the Handschumacher Dining Center, a buffet-style dining hall on campus ($8.75 for breakfast, $11.50 for lunch, $14 for dinner), and other dining locations on campus (Urban Eatery) or at various grocery stores and restaurants near campus.

Some popular on-campus restaurants that students enjoyed in the past include Sabrina’s, Starbucks, Saxbys, Fuel, and Lascala's Fire. Many of these restaurants, such as Pita Chip, include dining options for halal or vegetarian diets.

The closest grocery stores that accept DragonDollars are Heirloom Market, located at 34th and Chestnut Street, and ACME, located at 40th and Walnut Streets.

Click here for the full list of restaurants and grocery stores that accept DragonDollars.
Food Trucks

Around campus, you will find a selection of food trucks that are open on weekdays (Monday through Friday). They are behind the Main Building area, Hagerty Library, Recreational Center, 34th Market Street and other areas. Many of these trucks offer international cuisines like halal, Chinese, and Mexican. As well as traditional American cuisines like burgers, fries, and pizza. On-campus food trucks do not accept DragonCards. Most accept cash, and some will accept payment via credit card and VENMO – a mobile app that you can pay businesses and people through with a debit card.

Counseling and Mental Health Services

Drexel's Counseling Center provides students with on-campus confidential in-person or virtual counseling. The Counseling Center also offers a variety of mental health workshops and specialized programs for Black, Indigenous, and students of color.

Students who schedule an appointment will meet with a clinician for a confidential, solution-focused approach, which means they prioritize meeting immediate needs that day. By the end of the appointment, you and your clinician will have discussed next steps, which could include encouraging you to follow up as needed, connecting you with a campus partner, discussing the Center’s various services or connecting you with our Case Manager. Students must email the Counseling Center in order to make an appointment at counsel@drexel.edu. Same-day appointments may be available.

Visit the Counseling Center's website for more information.

Religious Observances

Embodying a culturally and spiritually diverse community, Drexel University recognizes that on the occasion of important or solemn religious days, certain of its members will observe practices that preclude them from attending to their regular duties whether as faculty members, staff or students. The University is committed to making every reasonable effort to accommodate religious observances, which include fasting and work restrictions in many religions. The Office for Institutional Equity and Inclusive Culture is available to provide information, resources and options about reasonable accommodations at any stage in the process. For more information, please view the University’s Religious Observances policy.

Email

Drexel matriculated students and all paid Drexel faculty and professional staff are provided with email service through Microsoft Office 365. Office 365 offers better Web and mobile device support, calendar and contact integration, 50 GB for storage, and improved email security. Click here to visit Drexel's Information and Technology guide for setting up your email on a computer and phone.

Your Drexel email is the official means of communication between Drexel and students. Students are expected to check and respond to emails daily.

Best Practices for Keeping Your Drexel Accounts Secure

- Practice strong password management.
- Never share your password.
- Update your password at least annually.
- Log out of public workstations before departing.
- Beware of "Phishing" scams. Drexel will never request your account information via email.
- Change your password immediately and contact accounts@drexel.edu if you suspect your account has been compromised.
Click here to access Drexel's Information Security website for more tips on keeping your account secure.

WIFI & Cisco AnyConnect VPN

DragonFly3 is the University's preferred wireless network. It is supported on computers, tablets, and phones. DragonFly3 is available to all students, faculty, and staff with a current University user ID. Click here to learn more about setting up Drexel's wifi network.

The Cisco AnyConnect Secure Mobility Client, used for off-campus access, establishes a secure Virtual Private Network (VPN) between your computer/mobile device and the campus network when connected to WIFI. This connection grants access to restricted computing resources at Drexel, such as file servers, databases, Web sites, and privileged applications such as EForms. To download Cisco AnyConnect and to learn more, click here.

Computers

There are multiple locations on campus where students can access computers and laptops. If you have a personal laptop, tablet, smartphone, etc., you are encouraged to bring them with you as these locations generally do not allow laptops to be used outside of their locations.

W.W. Hagerty Library offers laptops, printing and scanning services, and computer labs as well as a 24/7 space available any time of day. Laptops are available in the 24/7 space via a self-service kiosk. You can find more information about hours and library services here.

Drexel offers multiple computer labs on campus for student use and printing including the Student Organization Resource Center (SORC), and the Tech Lounge on Square. Ross Commons (above Sabrina's Cafe) also has computers available for use and is located at 34th and Powelton.

For students interested in purchasing laptops while on campus, Drexel IT's website provides guides and discounts for laptops.
Drexel Connect Portal

The DrexelOne Portal is a one-stop shop for accessing personal, academic, financial, and career information. Access to other services requiring sign-in, such as the University Libraries, commuter links, DragonCard funds, and vendor-discounted software also are provided within DrexelOne.

- DrexelOne:
  - Common Welcome and Campus+Community tabs
  - Role-based tabs for employees, students, and faculty
  - Access to Drexel personal information, including financial aid, course schedules, transcripts, billing, pay stubs, performance management, employee development workshops, discounted software, advisors, and more
  - Update your information with Drexel Alert and Drexel Guardian, Parking, student organizations, housing, and more
- Drexel Learn:
  - Access Courses, coursework, and grades

Getting Started

Sign in with your Drexel userID and password through the DrexelConnect service at one.drexel.edu.
Mail

Students that are living in university residence halls should talk to their residence halls directly about their mailing addresses and services. For students that are not living in residence halls or on-campus apartments, Drexel encourages students to rent a P.O. Box at a local post office. By renting a P.O. Box, mail and packages will be secured until they are picked up by their owner. Local stores also have Amazon Hub lockers for Amazon packages to be safely stored. P.O. Boxes and Amazon Hub Lockers are safer alternatives to receiving packages and preventing them from being stolen.

Money & Banking

Drexel's International Students & Scholars Services (ISSS) offers help to International Students when it comes to all things money, Drexel, and life in America. Students & Scholars Services (ISSS) offers help to International Students when it comes to all things money, Drexel, and life in America. Click here to access International Students and Scholars Services (ISSS) website for points of contact and office hours.

International Students will need a bank account as soon as they arrive in America to pay utility bills (cell phone, gas, internet, electricity, and water) and/or receive funds from their employer. To sign up for a checking account, your bank will require you to appear in person, with the following documents to complete the procedure: Drexel photo identification card and authorized forms of ID such as a passport along with the I-20.

There are many financial institutions around University City, Philadelphia. Below is a list of nearby banks.

Looking for a place to study and relax? There are multiple study spaces on campus open to Drexel graduate students!

Graduate Student Lounge - The lounge is accessible by DragonCard ID to all current Drexel graduate students via their DragonCard and is available 24 hours per day, seven days a week. It is located on the lower level of the Main Building (Room 010A) at 3141 Chestnut Street. Currently, registered graduate students, including semester and online programs, are granted access at the beginning of each academic quarter after the course add/drop deadline.

W.W. Haggerty Library - The Haggerty Library offers three floors of quiet and group study spaces for all Drexel students. Group study spaces are available but must be reserved. Printers are also available for student use.

Lebow College of Business - Grab a coffee at Drexel's Lebow College of Business and relax in the lounge located on the first floor. Lebow's lounge is perfect for students looking for a place to work but still surrounded by the hustle and bustle of the university!

Creese Student Center - Located at 3210 Chestnut Street is the perfect place for students to eat, study, and hang out with friends. The Creese Student Center offers both indoor and outdoor areas for students to study.

For more information about study spaces on campus, visit Drexel's website here.
At Drexel, we are dedicated to connecting you with academic resources that will position you for continued growth and success. The ARC (Academic Resource Center), located in the Korman Center, serves as an integrated hub of on-campus academic support services focusing on providing tutoring, academic coaching, workshops, specialized courses, and more — effectively streamlining your experience and making it easier to access the tools that best fit your individual needs.

Center for Learning and Academic Success Services (CLASS)

As a leading partner within the Academic Resource Center (ARC), the Center for Learning and Academic Success Services (CLASS) empowers students to develop skills and strategies that foster academic success and personal growth through purposeful interactions with peer and professional staff.

CLASS supports Drexel University students' efforts to achieve their academic goals through a variety of services, including Academic Coaching, Tutoring, Resources (quarter/semester calendars, time management resources, and tips for online learning), and Workshops and Events.

The English Language Center’s Tutoring & Language (ELC) Support

International students can face unique language challenges as they navigate university life at Drexel. The English Language Center's Tutoring and Language Support (ELC) office currently offers free, one-on-one tutoring to any Drexel student for whom English is a second language. Topics include: listening, speaking, reading comprehension, writing, vocabulary development, academic study skills, and resources for self-study. Learn more here.
