

About the Teck-Kah Lim Graduate Student Travel Subsidy Award

The Graduate College and Graduate Student Association offer a limited number of Teck-Kah Lim Graduate Student Domestic Travel Subsidy Awards annually to encourage graduate student presentation at academic meetings and conferences held within the United States and territories (including Puerto Rico) and/or for virtual presentation.

In order to be eligible, you must be:

- Currently enrolled in a doctoral or master's degree program at Drexel, including online programs;
- In good academic standing;
- And, invited to present an oral or research poster presentation at a meeting or conference in the United States or territories.

Students must submit a completed application via the Drexel Funding Portal (InfoReady), using the QR code below, with all required materials at least three weeks before the first day of travel or the first day of the meeting or conference.

Subsidy awards are processed AFTER successful completion of travel and/or presentation through the University's reimbursement request process outlined on the website.
Reimbursement paperwork is due within two weeks of travel.

Scan the QR code to the right to read more about the application, eligibility, and the reimbursement procedures.
