A Note About This Handbook

This handbook will be effective for LLM students at the Drexel University Thomas R. Kline School of Law for the 2020-2021 academic year.

International students should be aware that visa status may subject them to stricter policies or obligations than those adopted by the Kline School of Law.

These programs operate on U.S. Eastern time for all deadlines, exam times, etc.

All rules governing academic performance and student conduct may be modified or amended under the authority of the Dean and the faculty. Modifications or amendments to rules governing academic performance and student conduct are applicable to students currently enrolled when the Dean and the faculty determine that such modifications are necessary and appropriate and will not cause undue hardship to students currently enrolled.

The Kline School of Law expects that all communications between students and faculty members or staff, regardless of modality, will be courteous, respectful, and professional. Accordingly, all communications should use professional language, appropriate tone, and proper grammar and spelling.

INTRODUCTION TO STUDENT SERVICES

The Drexel University Thomas R. Kline School of Law (“Kline School of Law” or “law school”) seeks to serve the needs of its students and to assist with students’ academic, financial, and personal needs.

Associate Dean for Academic Affairs

The Associate Dean for Academic Affairs oversees the development and implementation of graduation requirements, grading and academic policies, and the development of the JD and LLM curricula, including decisions about course offerings and implementation of joint degree programs. He also oversees the Academic Skills program.

Bret Asbury, Associate Dean for Academic Affairs, bda24@drexel.edu, 215.571.4786

Donna Strunk, Administrative Assistant, das333@drexel.edu, 215.571.4802

Associate Dean of Graduate Studies and Online Learning

The Associate Dean of Graduate Studies and Online Education oversees all aspects of the online programs at the Kline School of Law. The Associate Dean of Graduate Studies and Online Education provides domestic students with personal and academic advice, receives complaints, and addresses any student issues of an academic or personal nature. The Associate Dean also grants approvals for leaves of absence, changes in plans of study, and withdrawals for domestic and online students.

Beth L. Haas, Associate Dean, Graduate Studies and Online Education, blh46@drexel.edu, 215.571.4818

Kathleen Cronin, Administrative Assistant, kc3558@drexel.edu, 215.571.4715

Associate Director of Graduate Programs

The Associate Director of Graduate Programs serves as an academic advisor to online students in the Kline School of Law, and aids with registration and other academic issues.

Stephanie Johnson, Associate Director of Graduate Programs, snj22@drexel.edu, 215.571.4749

Director of International Student Programs

The Director of International Student Programs provides support for and gives personal and academic advice to students in our Global Access JD and LLM programs. She also grants approvals for student leaves of absence and withdrawals.

Clare Coleman, Director of International Student Programs, Writing Specialist, Associate Professor of Law, ckc32@drexel.edu, 215.571.4731

Kathleen Cronin, Administrative Assistant, kc3558@drexel.edu, 215.571.4715

Senior Associate Dean of Students and Administration

The Senior Associate Dean of Students and Administration oversees offices that serve students, including the Office of Student Affairs. He provides students with personal and academic advice, and receives complaints and investigates possible violations of the Code of Conduct. He works with the governing board of the Student Bar Association on issues of student governance and the functioning and funding of student organizations. He also oversees the facilities, including information technology, both at the main Law Building and at the Kline Institute of Trial Advocacy.

Kevin P. Oates, Senior Associate Dean of Students and Administration, kpo25@drexel.edu, 215.571.4719

Mallory Heller, Administrative Coordinator, mah498@drexel.edu, 215.571.4812

The Office of Student Affairs

The Office of Student Affairs (OSA) provides a number of services to students including assistance with course registration, advising, exam administration, academic record-keeping, grade processing, student programming, and locker distribution. OSA serves as a liaison to other offices in the university (e.g., Drexel Central, Disability Resources, health insurance and immunizations), and houses a financial aid manager.

If you have a question and are not sure where to go, please contact the Administrative Coordinator in the Office of Student Affairs.

Theresa Gallo, Assistant Dean of Academic & Student Services, theresa.gallo@drexel.edu, 215.571.4716

Mary de Rivera, Student Financial Aid Manager, mmd88@drexel.edu,

I. ACADEMIC RULES AND POLICIES

A. Graduation

Graduation Requirements

The degree of Master of Laws (LL.M.) will be awarded to candidates who have:

1. Successfully met the course requirement for graduation, set forth in the corresponding appendices;
2. successfully completed 24 semester credits¹; and
3. achieved a minimum cumulative grade point average of 2.20 at the time of graduation.

Required Courses for Graduation

See appendix specific to your program.

Completion of Degree Requirements

In the term in which you intend to graduate, all coursework and any other required documentation must be submitted no later than 5:00 p.m. on the last day of the published examination period. Exceptions to this policy will be made only in extraordinary circumstances and with approval of the Dean of the law school.

Degree Conferral

Students in their last term must apply for their degree through DrexelOne by the published deadline in order to be considered for degree conferral in that term. Once the application has been processed, the student is considered a degree candidate. Successful degree candidates will be awarded the Master of Laws (LL.M.) by Drexel University. Diplomas will be mailed by the University approximately one month after graduation.

Commencement

The law school has one commencement ceremony in May. Students may only participate in the current year's Commencement ceremony if they graduated after the prior Fall Semester, are graduating after the current Spring Semester, or will be within 7 credits of completing their LLM degree at the time of the ceremony.

Students who have not yet graduated must notify the Office of Student Affairs of their intention to participate by March 1 of that year. Students with unresolved Code of Conduct allegations may be ineligible to participate in Commencement.

B. Grades

Grading System

A. Grade Point Equivalent. The Kline School of Law uses a letter grading system, in which each letter grade is assigned a numerical grade point equivalent. The table below indicates the grade point equivalents and a guide for awarding of the grades.

Grade	Value
A+	4.00	Excellent (Exceptional Achievement)
A	4.00	Excellent (Outstanding Achievement)
A-	3.67
B+	3.33
B	3.00	Good (Substantial Achievement)
B-	2.67
C+	2.33	Satisfactory (Acceptable Achievement)
C	2.00
C-	1.67
D	1.00
F	0.00
INC	Incomplete
INP	In Progress
W	Withdrawal
CR	Credit
NCR	No Credit

- B. Cumulative Grade Point Average. A student's cumulative grade point average is arrived at by multiplying the grade point equivalent for the letter grade received in each course by the number of credits assigned that course, adding those products, and dividing that sum by the total number of credits completed in Kline School of Law courses for which letter grades are assigned.
- C. Credit/No Credit Courses. Some courses are graded on a credit/no credit basis and those classes are not included in the cumulative grade point average, although the credits received in those courses will be counted toward the required credits for graduation.
- D. Grades Not Included in Cumulative GPA. The Kline School of Law does not include grades earned outside the Kline School of Law, including those earned at other law schools, in the calculation of cumulative grade point averages.

Many courses include a final examination. Professors may incorporate a variety of assessment tools in their classes such as short papers, presentations, group projects, and midterm examinations. Professors will typically set forth the precise method of assessment, including the components of the final grade, in their syllabi. When published, grades are available through the student's DrexelOne account.

Grade Changes

A student may only apply for a change of grade on the grounds that the grade was awarded contrary to the provisions of this handbook or the University's Equality and Non-Discrimination Policy (<http://www.drexel.edu/oed/policies/>). The burden of proof is on the student to prove the allegations.

In all cases other than those being adjudicated pursuant to the University's Equality and Non-Discrimination Policy, students must petition the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs. His decision is final.

Professors may apply to the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs for a change of grade only upon a showing that there was a clerical error in recording a grade or other similar situation, and his decision is final.

Students and/or faculty must petition for a change of grade by the last day of classes in the term following the term of the graded course.

Incomplete Grades

Students who will not complete their work by the required deadline for the course or for-credit project may take a temporary grade of Incomplete ("INC") upon arrangement with the instructor. The terms and conditions for the completion of the course are at the discretion of the instructor and should be agreed upon by the instructor and the student. If the student fails to meet the terms and conditions for a grade within the time established by the instructor, or within one year, whichever is earlier, the "INC" will be changed to an "F" on the student's record and will be reflected on the student's record and in the student's GPA. The grade of "F" is a permanent grade and the student will not receive academic credit for the course.

C. Registration and Coursework

Advisors

The program advisor is a resource for students, especially with regard to academic questions. She will give guidance on course selection and serve as a resource for students as to services available within the law school and the University.

Please refer to page 7 for your advisor assignment.

Maximum/Minimum Credits

The following policies apply to all students at the Kline School of Law. However, on-campus international students should be aware that the terms of their visa may require more credits than the minimums stated here, or other enrollment-related obligations, such as limitations on online courses. Students should be in touch with the International Students and Scholars Services (ISSS) office with any questions (http://drexel.edu/studentlife/get_involved/international_students_scholars/).

Fall and Spring Semesters:

The maximum number of credits a student may take in each semester is 15; the minimum number of credits to be considered full-time is 9. The minimum amount of credits to qualify for federal financial aid is 4.5. International students on F-1 or J-1 visas do not qualify for federal financial aid.

International students may be permitted to register as part-time students with fewer than 9 credits with the permission of the Director of International Student Programs and ISSS.

Summer Semester:

Students may take a maximum of 13 credits in the Summer semester. The minimum amount of credits to qualify for federal financial aid is 4.5. International students on F-1 or J-1 visas do not qualify for federal financial aid.

While the Summer Semester is not a required term for LLM students, on-campus international students should contact ISSS regarding a “vacation term” if they do not plan to enroll for Summer.

Registration and Course Changes

New LLM students will be administratively registered for their courses by their advisor. In subsequent terms, LLM students will register themselves online via DrexelOne during the prescribed registration period. Registration materials and instructions will be posted online in advance.

Students who self-register will be permitted to add and drop courses on DrexelOne from the time registration opens for the term through the first two weeks of the semester. No courses, including independent work, may be added following the end of the second week of the semester.

Dropping a course following the second week of the semester is considered a Withdrawal and requires the permission of the program advisor. A grade of “W” will be recorded on the transcript, except in extraordinary circumstances and with the approval of the Associate Dean of Academic Affairs. Other policies may apply to courses that do not start at the beginning of the semester. No withdrawals are permitted after the last day of classes in the term, except in extraordinary circumstances and with the approval of the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs. If the student does not notify the program advisor of his or her intent to withdraw in writing by the last day of classes in a term, a failing grade will be entered for every course in which the student has not completed all course requirements.

Students who withdraw from courses may be liable for all or part of the tuition for those courses in accordance with Drexel University's tuition refund and credit policy and must comply with all financial aid rules with respect to any loan monies they may have received. Students should be aware that if their credit load for the semester drops below 4.5 credits, they will no longer be eligible for federal financial aid and that any aid distributed may have to be returned immediately. Students should also be aware that withdrawals may cause other financial aid implications, such as failure to meet Satisfactory Academic Progress, and should arrange a meeting with the Financial Aid Manager before finalizing their withdrawal.

Registration Eligibility and Holds

Students may be precluded from registration if there are holds on their accounts for reasons, including, but not limited to, 1) failure to remit tuition payment, 2) failure to agree to the Student Financial Obligation statement, or 3) failure to submit prior school transcripts. In accordance with ABA guidance, students who have not submitted final transcripts showing appropriate degree conferrals by the corresponding deadline (October 15th for Fall matriculants, March 15th for Spring matriculants, and July 15th for Summer matriculants) will be removed from their courses and may be responsible for all or part of the course tuition and return of federal or institutional funds.

Attendance

Pursuant to ABA Standard 308(a), the law school requires regular and prompt attendance in all courses. Students are permitted absences up to, but not exceeding, 20% of the regularly scheduled meetings in any course. Individual faculty members may set attendance and class preparation policies for their classes that require greater than 80% attendance; such policies must be set out in writing on the first day of class.

Any student who fails to comply with law school attendance policies in a given course may be withdrawn from that course.

Students may not enroll in courses where the class schedules conflict and therefore will preclude full attendance in all classes. Students enrolled in experiential courses must ensure that their obligations do not conflict with their regularly scheduled classes.

Auditing Courses

Students wishing to audit a course must receive prior permission from the instructor and the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs. Students will be billed on a per-credit basis for audited courses. The student's transcript will reflect a grade of "AUD" for audited courses, and those courses will not be counted towards the LLM degree.

Students may not attend courses unless they are enrolled for credit or audit. Students may not switch between Credit and Audit after the add/drop period.

Repeating Courses

If a student receives a failing grade (“F”) in a required course, the student must retake the course to graduate. Except where subject to the Code of Conduct, both the failing grade and the grade from the retake will appear on the student’s transcript and both grades will be factored into the student’s cumulative grade point average.

With permission of the Senior Associate Dean of Students, who will confer with the faculty member teaching the course, a student may retake an elective course for credit if the student received a failing grade (“F”) in the course on the first attempt. If a student retakes an elective course after receiving a failing grade on the first attempt, both the failing grade and the grade from the retake will appear on the student’s transcript and both grades will be factored into the student’s cumulative grade point average, except where subject to the Code of Conduct. Students may only retake such a course once.

Students may not retake any course in which they have already received a passing grade unless required to do so as part of a reinstatement or readmission decision.

Independent Study (American Legal Practice students only)

An independent study permits a student to work closely with a full-time faculty member to complete a significant research project. Students seeking these opportunities must meet with a faculty member to consider possible research projects and submit a proposal to the faculty member to obtain approval. Independent study may be pursued in any semester, although faculty members can only supervise a limited number of students each term. To enroll, a student must submit an Independent Study Proposal form to the Office of Student Affairs – including a description of the project, a proposed due date, and the signatures of the supervising faculty member and the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs – no later than the end of the add/drop period. Students are required to record their hours to ensure that independent study work complies with the credit hour policy (at least 42.5 effort hours per credit).

Leaves of Absence

- Military Leave of Absence

A student may request a leave of absence to fulfill a military service obligation at any time and the leave will be granted upon submission of the appropriate documentation. Students will be held to the withdrawal dates and tuition refund and credit policy. Any student who receives a military leave of absence will be entitled to return to the Kline School of Law within a reasonable time after discharge from service or deployment.

- Leaves of Absence for Any Other Reason

A student who wishes to take a leave of absence for any reason other than military service must submit a Leave of Absence form and Responsibility Sheet to the program advisor before the final class session of any term. The student will meet with the program advisor before the University processes the leave. Once the reading period and examinations have begun, a student may not take a leave for the term except under extraordinary circumstances and with permission of the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs. If the student does not notify the program advisor of his or her intent to take a leave of absence in writing, a failing grade will be entered for every class in which the student has not completed all course requirements.

A leave of absence may be granted for no more than one semester, exclusive of the Summer Semester. Extensions are subject to the approval of the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs and ISSS, where visa implications apply. Students attending on a visa may be ineligible to remain in the United States during their leave of absence. Returning students must comply with all required documentation. Students who request a leave of absence may be liable for all or part of the tuition for that term in accordance with the University's tuition refund and credit policy and must comply with all financial aid rules with respect to any loan monies they may have received.

A student who wishes to return from a leave of absence must notify the program advisor in writing before the date designated when the leave was granted. The program advisor may request documentation, where appropriate, of the student's ability to resume legal studies (e.g., doctor's notes). Failure to submit notification of the intent to return in a timely manner will result in withdrawal from the law school.

Students must take a formal leave of absence for any required term in which they are not enrolled.

Withdrawal from the University

A student who wishes to withdraw from the University must submit a Withdrawal form and Responsibility Sheet to the program advisor before the final class session of any term. The student will meet with the program advisor before the University processes the withdrawal. If the student does not notify the program advisor of his or her intent to withdraw in writing by the last day of classes in the term, a failing grade will be entered for every class in which the student has not completed all course requirements. Once the reading period and examinations have begun, a student may not withdraw except under extraordinary circumstances and with permission of the Associate Dean of Academic Affairs.

A student who withdraws from the Kline School of Law will not be readmitted, except under extraordinary circumstances and with the permission of the Senior Associate Dean of Students, who may impose conditions of readmission (e.g., doctors' notes). In all other situations, the withdrawn student must reapply to the law school through the Admissions Office, who may also impose conditions of readmission (e.g., doctors' notes).

Tuition Refund and Credit Policy

Students who withdraw from a course for the semester are subject to the University's tuition refund and credit policy found at <http://drexel.edu/drexelcentral/billing/refunds/policies/>. The first week of classes is the first week in which student attendance is required. This varies depending on student registration and may in some cases be orientation week.

Students who were awarded financial aid should meet with the financial aid manager to discuss the financial implications of withdrawal. Questions about the refund policy linked above should be directed to Drexel Central.

Satisfactory Academic Progress/Time to Completion

Failure to achieve "satisfactory academic progress" (SAP) may result in loss of eligibility for federal financial aid. To achieve SAP, LLM students must

- 1) maintain good standing (cumulative GPA of 2.20);
- 2) complete 75% of the credits they attempt; and
- 3) earn their LLM within 150% of the published program time to completion.

Students can read more about SAP guidelines and the SAP appeal process at <http://drexel.edu/drexelcentral/finaid/forms/losing-eligibility/satisfactory-academic-progress/>

Transfer Credits

Except in exceptional circumstances as determined by the Associate Dean of Academic Affairs, no transfer credits from any other program or institution will be accepted toward the LLM.

Co-Op (American Legal Practice students only)

Students who have completed at least one semester of full-time coursework and demonstrated academic success and a strong facility in the English language, may be permitted to participate in the co-op program. Participation must be approved by the faculty advisor and the Director of the Co-op Program. Students should complete appropriate Curricular Practical Training (CPT) forms with Prof. Coleman.

D. Assessments

General Examination and Assessment Policies

Student Identification

Some courses will have anonymously graded components. For these assignments, students will be assigned an anonymous number to be used for identification purposes. Students are responsible for completing the Exam Policies and Procedures Verification and retrieving their anonymous numbers from DragonNet each term.

Students receive five anonymous numbers every semester. One is a Finals Exam ID, to be used for exams. The others may be used if instructors give anonymous assessments during the term (e.g., midterms or interim papers), to allow the instructors to provide feedback without breaking anonymity for subsequent assignments.

For any anonymously graded examination or assignment, students should write only their anonymous number – and no other identifying information – on their materials. To retain anonymity, students must not reveal their anonymous numbers to other students or to faculty, as this may be a violation of the Code of Conduct.

Limitations in the online platform make anonymity difficult to achieve, and these courses may not be graded anonymously. Similarly, courses with research papers or other extensive feedback processes may not be graded anonymously.

Communication During Exams

Students are not permitted to communicate with anyone other than examination administration staff members while an examination is in progress. Students may not contact the course instructor(s) directly with questions or concerns about anonymous in-class or take-home examinations before grades have been released, as this may compromise the anonymity of the examination, and may result in possible sanctions under the Code of Conduct.

Exam Accommodations and Adjustments

Students seeking exam accommodations due to a disability or temporary disability (e.g., an injury impeding movement) must follow the procedure outlined in the Disability Accommodations section of this handbook, listed under General Policies. Students with disabilities requesting classroom accommodations and services at Drexel University need to present a current accommodation verification letter (AVL) to each of their instructors and the program advisor. Students with disabilities requesting exam accommodations and services need to obtain an AVL and present it to the program advisor. Individual professors do not have the discretion to accommodate disabilities absent an AVL from of the University's Disability Resources team (DR). The university does not grant retroactive disability accommodations, and the law school cannot grant exam or classroom accommodations absent an AVL.

Students for whom English is not a first language and who do not hold a bachelor's or advanced degree from an institution where English is the primary language of instruction will be given the following exam adjustments:

1. One-and-one-half (1.5) time on exams for the first two semesters of attendance at the law school; and
2. The use of an English language translation dictionary (i.e., a dictionary which translates English into the student's first language) with no personal notes for the first four semesters of attendance at the law school.

A student receiving exam adjustments may obtain extension of exam adjustments beyond the first two semesters of attendance at the law school by petition to the Director of International Students, who may exercise discretion to grant such adjustments based upon individual circumstances. Students for whom English is not a first language and who do not qualify for exam adjustments under these guidelines may petition the Director of International Student Programs for adjustments, who may grant them in extraordinary circumstances.

Deferral of In-Class Examinations

Except as set out in the examination deferral policy below, a student enrolled in a course that requires an in-class examination must take the examination(s) at the scheduled time.

A student's failure to take or submit an examination at the scheduled time will result in a failing grade ("F") for the examination unless the student (1) has arranged for a rescheduled examination; (2) has arranged for a temporary grade of INC (Incomplete); or (3) has officially dropped or withdrawn from the course by the last day of classes for that semester.

Students with scheduled exams should not plan to travel until the end of the exam period due to the possibility of weather rescheduling or other unforeseen circumstances.

Regular Deferral

Deferral of an examination is permitted only under very narrow circumstances. A student may request to have an in-class examination deferred when there is an examination conflict, defined as two or more in-class examinations scheduled to occur on the same calendar day. Take-home and online exams scheduled to be available for multiple days generally are not considered to cause a conflict under this definition.

At the discretion of the Assistant Dean of Academic & Student Services, certain extraordinary circumstances – e.g., significant personal or family event scheduled before the announcement of the examination schedule – may be considered to pose a "conflict" that warrants examination deferral. Requests for examination deferral due to extraordinary circumstances must be accompanied by appropriate documentation, e.g., doctor's note, travel documents.

Requests for examination deferral must be submitted to the Assistant Dean of Academic & Student Services in writing, using an Examination Conflict/Deferral Form, by the deadline stated for that term. The Assistant Dean of Academic & Student Services will designate the time and place for a makeup examination, which will occur on the next available day, unless it results in a student having an exam on three consecutive days. In no case will a student be permitted to take an exam on a date before the regularly scheduled exam. Additionally, depending on the student's exam schedule, a deferred exam may be scheduled after the last day of the published exam period. Students will be notified about the date, time, and location of the makeup examination no later than the last day of classes. The decision of the time and place for the makeup exam by the Assistant Dean is final.

Emergency Deferral

If an emergency or unanticipated problem arises immediately before an in-class examination is scheduled to begin, the student should contact the Assistant Dean of Academic & Student Services directly to request an emergency deferral. Examples of emergencies or unanticipated problems include serious personal injury or illness; serious illness, injury, or death of a member of the student's immediate family; or another similar event beyond the student's control. The student must provide documentation of the emergency or problem within 48 hours or as soon as reasonably possible. In no event will a student be permitted to take a makeup exam without providing adequate documentation.

Should an emergency or serious illness arise during an examination, the student should immediately bring it to the attention of the proctor, who will notify the Assistant Dean of Academic & Student Services.

A makeup examination replaces the examination originally scheduled for the course and carries the same consequences. The conditions for the makeup examination are identical to those established by the course instructor for her or his in-class examination. Students who fail to sit for a makeup examination at the prescribed time will receive a failing grade on the examination.

Disclosure of Information about an Examination

Because of examination deferrals, some students may not have taken an examination when originally scheduled. It is a violation of the Code of Conduct for any student to disclose the form, content, or any other information pertaining to the exam, or discuss the exam in any way with any student who has not yet taken the examination. Further, it is a violation for any student who has deferred an exam to seek or obtain information about the exam from a student who has taken the exam.

Exam Review

The faculty is committed to providing feedback on exams to assist students seeking to improve their performance. Students may request individual review of their exam with a professor. Instructors may impose limits on the availability of exam review. In addition, faculty may provide other appropriate feedback on exam performance, such as providing model exam answers, holding group review sessions, etc. The Director of Academic Skills and the Writing Specialist are available to provide additional support. Exam review is primarily designed for the purpose of helping students improve their work. Grade changes are permitted only in extremely rare circumstances (see section on Grade Changes).

In-Class Examinations

Examination Materials Policy

For ALL in-class exams:

- a. Pockets must be empty.
 - b. Students are not permitted to access any prohibited material or device during an exam, regardless of location.
 - c. Backpacks and other bags that will not fit in lockers may only be stowed in a designated area (e.g., not in hallways, lounges, study rooms, or other common areas). This area may be unsecured and unsupervised, and the school takes no responsibility for belongings left in this area.
 - d. No electronic devices other than a laptop running the current version of the exam software and an instructor-approved calculator are permitted in the exam room. This includes, but is not limited to: “smartphones,” “smart watches,” tablets, e-readers, Bluetooth-enabled devices, any other device that is capable of accessing the internet (even if the device is powered off or otherwise not connected to the internet); and, any device that is capable of storing text, video, or audio.
 - e. Food and beverages are permitted, provided they are small and non-disruptive. They must be visible on the desk, and no notes or other unauthorized materials may be made on or attached to these items. The Senior Associate Dean of Students may remove items deemed disruptive at his discretion.
1. For closed book/no materials exams, students may only bring into the exam room:
- a. Laptop
 - b. Writing implements (such as pens and highlighters)
 - c. A small, clear plastic bag (no larger than one-quart size), which must be displayed on the desk, containing factory sealed or unwrapped food items such as candy, cough drops, mints and/or chewing gum; individual feminine hygiene products; individual cigarettes; and individual tablets of medicine.
 - d. A beverage.

Thus, all materials (such as notes, casebooks, study aids), electronic devices, and purses, backpacks, and the like may not be brought into the exam room.

2. For all other exams administered at the law school: Students may only bring with them into the exam room:
- a. Laptop
 - b. Writing implements (such as pens and highlighters)
 - c. A small, clear plastic bag (no larger than one-quart size), which must be displayed on the desk, containing factory sealed or unwrapped food items such as candy, cough drops, mints and/or chewing gum; individual feminine hygiene products; individual cigarettes; and individual tablets of medicine.
 - d. A beverage.
 - e. Permitted exam materials per the exam conditions posted for the term.

Thus, prohibited reference materials, electronic devices, and purses, backpacks, and the like may not be brought into the exam room.

Possession of unauthorized materials or electronic devices after the exam has commenced will be treated as an act of cheating and pursued under the Code of Conduct, regardless of whether there is direct proof of use of the prohibited material or device to access information during an exam.

Laptop Use and Assistance Policy

All students are permitted to take their in-class examinations using laptop computers, provided the laptop meets the standards set forth by the law school's technology staff (Lawtech) and the student uses school-designated examination software (currently Exam4) during the examination. A student who opts to take an examination using a laptop computer must provide his or her own laptop computer.

Students must adhere to any laptop restrictions designated for specific exams, including exam modes and use of electronic materials; failure to do so may be a violation of the Code of Conduct.

Any student who plans to use a laptop in conjunction with the Exam4 software must upgrade to the latest version of the software, as designated by Lawtech, and test the software each semester by submitting a practice exam. Those who fail to do so are not entitled to technical assistance during the exam period. More information about Exam4 is posted at <https://drexel0.sharepoint.com/sites/LawExamCenter> Lawtech will notify students when new versions of the software are available and can assist any students that have difficulty downloading or installing the software.

If a computer problem arises during an examination and the problem cannot be resolved in 5 minutes (or 10 minutes if the exam has not begun), or Lawtech assistance is required a second time, the student has two options: to use an in-exam emergency laptop, if eligible (see below); or to continue handwriting the exam in a "bluebook."

In-Exam Emergency Laptop Program

To be eligible to use the in-exam emergency laptops, a student must have 1) installed the latest version of Exam4 available, as stated by Lawtech; and 2) successfully submitted a practice examination with the latest version of Exam4 at some point during that term before the published deadline.

The in-exam emergency laptops will only be made available to students who meet the above requirements, whose technical issues first occur after the student has arrived in the exam room and begun the process of logging in to take the exam, and only after Lawtech has been unsuccessful in repairing the issue within the allowable time limit (5 minutes during an exam or 10 minutes before the scheduled start time of an exam).

After Lawtech has exceeded the allotted time, they will advise the student of the status of the problem, and the student may opt to either handwrite the remainder of the exam or be escorted to a "crash room" to use one of the in-exam emergency laptops. The process of switching to an in-exam emergency laptop involves gathering your materials, going to the crash room (which may be on a different floor in the building from the exam room), opening a new blank exam document, and Exam4 start up time. The student will not lose time from the exam for this switch.

As in the switch to bluebook, the student will not have access to anything previously typed and will be starting on a blank page. If Lawtech is able to retrieve any part of the exam typed before the crash, it will be added to the materials given to the professor, and, if possible within the timeframe of the exam, it will be given to the student as he or she continues the exam.

Lawtech maintains only three in-exam emergency laptops; therefore, only the first three eligible students who opt to use the laptops at a given time will receive them. Any other students who cannot continue on their computers must use bluebooks.

The in-exam emergency laptops will not be given out in the following situations:

- 1) The loss or theft of a student's own laptop;
- 2) Computer malfunctions before the student arrives in the exam room and the commences the login process for the exam;
- 3) Personal mishaps (e.g., spills);
- 4) Take-home exams; or
- 5) For any personal use, for any length of time, outside of an exam.

This is not a comprehensive or exhaustive list and may be amended as deemed necessary by the Law School Administration. Decisions regarding the distribution of the emergency laptops are made at the discretion of the Senior Associate Dean of Students and the Office of Student Affairs.

Handwritten Exams

Students are permitted to handwrite their in-class exams. Students choosing to handwrite their exams may be permitted, with the direct approval of exam administrators, to have a laptop in the room for OPEN or multiple-choice exams. In these cases, students must have the Exam4 software enabled throughout the exam until final submission and may not access the internet or any unauthorized materials while in the exam room.

Students may not handwrite take-home exams, unless a need exists due to a disability. Such an exception requires appropriate paperwork from the Office of Equality and Diversity's Disability Resources Team (see Exam Accommodations and Adjustments).

Take-Home and Online Examinations

Students in a course in which a take-home or online examination is given must retrieve and submit the examination according to the procedure established by the course instructor. This may be through the secure exam software (e.g. Exam4) or through the learning management system (e.g., Blackboard Learn).

Online examinations may be subject to remote proctoring or other methods of ensuring academic integrity of online assessments, including student identity verification.

Unless arrangements have been made for the temporary grade of Incomplete, a take-home or online examination submitted after the deadline set by the instructor will be accepted for credit only at the instructor's discretion. Take-home examinations submitted beyond the prescribed time limit will be reported (by name or anonymous number where appropriate) to the instructor, and subject to penalty at the instructor's discretion.

Alternative Assessments

Assessments other than examinations, such as papers, projects, or quizzes, should be submitted through the learning management system (e.g., Blackboard), or as otherwise instructed. Deadline extensions may only be granted at the discretion of the instructor, or with appropriate paperwork from Disability Resources if the request is related to a disability.

E. Academic Standing

Letters of Good Standing

Students who require a letter of good standing must complete the appropriate Letter of Good Standing request form (available in the Office of Student Affairs, or online at https://drexel0.sharepoint.com/sites/Law_Hub) and submit it to the Office of Student Affairs. Students who need only enrollment verification should obtain said verification from DrexelOne.

Probation (Academic)

A. Academic Good Standing: All students must maintain a cumulative grade point average of 2.20 to remain in academic good standing.

B. Academic Probation:

- a. Failure to achieve a cumulative grade point average of 1.85 or above in any term will result in academic dismissal.
- b. Students who achieve between a 1.85 and 2.20 cumulative grade point average, inclusive, in any semester will be placed on academic probation and will be required to meet with the Director of the Academic Skills Program and to participate in any programs she requires for that student.
- c. Students who fall below a 2.20 cumulative GPA, who are therefore on probation, must achieve a cumulative GPA of 2.20 or above in the semester in which they are next enrolled in order to regain good standing. Students who do not achieve a cumulative GPA of 2.20 or above in that semester will be academically dismissed.
- d. Students who are enrolled in a Co-op in the semester immediately following the semester in which they fell below a 2.20 cumulative GPA will be allowed one additional semester of enrollment to achieve a 2.20 cumulative GPA or above, such that they may remain on probation for two successive semesters. Students who fall under this subsection will be permitted to remain on probation for a maximum of one additional semester, regardless of the composition of their enrollment in the second semester of their probation. (This means a year-long Co-op or second semester of Co-op will not further extend the probation period). Students under this subsection who do not achieve a 2.20 cumulative GPA or above at the end of the second semester in which they are on probation will be academically dismissed.

- e. Students who have otherwise completed all other graduation requirements but whose cumulative GPA falls below 2.20, for the first time, in their final semester must enroll in an additional semester to achieve the required cumulative GPA for degree conferral. (Note that this may mean the student must enroll for some number of credits beyond the minimum needed to graduate.) Students who do not achieve a cumulative GPA of 2.20 or above by the end of the additional semester will be academically dismissed. Students who fall under this subsection will have a maximum of one semester to achieve the required GPA.
- f. A student who has otherwise completed all other graduation requirements but is subject to academic dismissal in their final semester may petition for reinstatement and must meet all conditions set forth by the Senior Associate Dean of Students in order to graduate. These conditions may require a set number of additional credits, minimum course grades, or other requirements that exceed those needed for graduation.
- g. Students who were previously on academic probation, regained good standing, and then again fall below a 2.20 cumulative GPA in a later semester will be academically dismissed (i.e., they will not be placed on probation a second time). This subsection applies to students under all other subsections of this policy.

C. Co-op Participation: Students on academic probation are not eligible to participate in co-op programs. In extraordinary circumstances, the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs may waive this prohibition.

Academic Dismissal

Students attending on a visa who are in danger of academic dismissal should consult with ISSS.

- A. Dismissal Notice from Senior Associate Dean of Students. A student who has been dismissed for academic reasons will be notified of the dismissal in writing by the Senior Associate Dean of Students. The notice of dismissal will include an outline of the procedure for filing a petition for reinstatement.
- B. Effective Date for Notice. Dismissal notices will be sent by first-class mail to the student's addresses in DrexelOne, and by e-mail with return receipt requested. The notice is deemed effective upon mailing.

Reinstatement

- A. Students Who May Petition for Reinstatement. Any student dismissed after his or her first semester for failure to achieve a 1.85 grade point average may petition the Senior Associate Dean of Students in writing for reinstatement, which shall only be granted based on a showing of extraordinary circumstances, and will be subject to any conditions determined by the Senior Associate Dean of Students. His decision is final.

Any student dismissed for failing to achieve a 2.20 cumulative grade point average after having been placed on probation may petition the Senior Associate Dean of Students in writing for reinstatement, which shall only be granted based on a showing of extraordinary circumstances, and will be subject to any conditions determined by the Senior Associate Dean of Students. His decision is final.

B. Content of Petition. Any petition for reinstatement to the Senior Associate Dean of Students must be filed within 10 calendar days after the dismissal notice is deemed effective and must include the following information:

1. Specification of Reason for Academic Failure. The student must establish that the student possesses the requisite ability to perform satisfactorily in law school and that the student's current grade point average does not indicate a lack of capacity to satisfactorily complete legal studies at the Kline School of Law.
2. Circumstances Beyond Student's Control Caused Failure. In addition to (1), the student must also establish that poor academic performance was the result of non-recurring circumstances beyond the student's control, and thereby rebut the presumption raised by the student's record that the student's poor academic performance was caused by lack of ability or failure to apply oneself diligently to the study of law.
 - a. Medical or Psychological Causes. If the extenuating circumstances raised by the student are related to a physical or psychological incapacity suffered during the course of a term or before or during an examination, convincing medical proof of the existence of the condition must accompany the petition for reinstatement. The student must also demonstrate that the incapacity has been remediated and will not further impede the student's academic performance.

C. Consideration of Petitions for Reinstatement by the Senior Associate Dean of Students

1. Review by Senior Associate Dean. The Senior Associate Dean of Students will consider the petition for reinstatement and any supporting written materials. The Senior Associate Dean, in his discretion, will determine whether to allow the student to present his or her reasons for reinstatement in person. At the presentation, the student may provide any evidence he or she believes is relevant to the standard set forth above in B (1) and (2).
2. Standards for Readmission. If the Senior Associate Dean of Students finds that the student has the capacity to satisfactorily complete legal studies at the Kline School of Law and that the student's academic failure was a result of extraordinary circumstances, the Senior Associate Dean may determine that the student should be reinstated and what conditions may be imposed on reinstatement.

3. Terms of Readmission. The Senior Associate Dean of Students may impose conditions of reinstatement that may include that the student retake all or some of the required first-year courses. If a student retakes a first-year course in which the student received a passing grade, the student's transcript will reflect both the initial grade and the grade from the retake. However, the student will not receive academic credit for both the initial course and the retake, and for purposes of calculating the student's cumulative grade point average, both the initial grade and the grade from the retake will be used.

A student who receives a failing grade in a first-year course must retake the course. If the student received a failing grade for reasons other than a violation of the Code of Conduct, both the failing grade and the grade from the retake will appear on the student's transcript and both grades will be factored into the student's cumulative grade point average².

4. Final Decision on Reinstatement. The decision of the Senior Associate Dean of Students is final, and the student will be notified in writing of the decision.

² Policies regarding failing grades given for conduct violations are covered in the Code of Conduct.

II. GENERAL POLICIES

Financial Aid Information

Applying for Financial Aid

Students who are eligible to receive federal aid are required to file the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) each year to be evaluated for federal aid eligibility. In general, students on F-1 and J-1 visas are not eligible for financial aid. A FAFSA is not required in order to be considered for law school scholarships or awards.

Students can file the FAFSA online at <http://www.fafsa.ed.gov>. Remember to include Drexel's federal ID number (#003256) when filing the federal form. If additional documentation is needed, the student will see the request as a financial aid requirement on their Drexel One account. The priority deadline for the FAFSA is March 1st.

After filing the FAFSA, students will receive a copy of their Student Aid Report (SAR). Students should check the SAR for accuracy and make any necessary corrections. Corrections should be submitted as directed by the SAR as soon as possible.

Drexel will receive the student's FAFSA information approximately three business days after a student has filed the FAFSA. The information in the FAFSA is used to determine a student's eligibility for federal financial aid funds and need-based scholarships.

Continuing students will be able to view their financial aid package on their Drexel Connect account in mid- July. This package will list all federal funds that the student is eligible to receive as well as any scholarship awarded by the Kline School of Law.

Loan Funds

Loan funds may be available to students whose need is not met by other sources. Students who file a FAFSA may be eligible for loans in the Federal Direct Loan program. These loans are awarded by the school.

A student may also apply for a Federal Graduate Plus Loan at <http://www.studentaid.gov> each year. Some students may want to consider private student loans if they are unable to file a FAFSA. Please contact the law school's financial aid manager for more information. Both Federal Graduate Plus loans and private education loans require a clean credit record. Any credit problems should be resolved by students before the start of the academic year.

Funding for External Programs

Summer Work Study Program

Students eligible for and interested in participating in the Law School's Summer Work Study Program must fill out a Request for Work Study Form available in the Office of Finance and Budget during February of each year. The student's FAFSA and Institutional Financial Aid Application must be submitted to the Office of Financial Aid by March 1st and will be reviewed by that office for federal work study eligibility.

Bar Exams

Students may be able to borrow funds in the form of a private education loan to assist with costs associated with taking a Bar Exam. Bar loans are available through private lenders and eligibility is based on a student's credit. These loans can assist students with the cost of taking the exam, bar prep courses, and living expenses. Students may apply for bar loans during their last year of law school and up to six months after graduation. Before applying for a bar loan, students should speak with the Financial Aid office to insure there is no further eligibility in the Federal Direct Loan program.

Managing Your Drexel Financial Aid Account

Viewing Account Information

Students can use Drexel Connect (<http://one.drexel.edu>) to access financial aid account information online at any time. There, students can view their financial aid award information, requirements associated with financial aid, and billing information.

Refund Process

All processed financial aid will disburse to students' accounts the week before each term starts. Once the charges billed by the University are covered, students will automatically receive the excess of funds in the form of "refunds" to assist with other education-related expenses.

Refunds are disbursed to students as checks or direct deposit. It takes two to three business days to process refund checks. Checks are always mailed to the student and may not be picked up. Alternatively, students may elect to receive refunds via direct deposit by following the steps outlined at <http://drexel.edu/drexelcentral/billing/refunds/direct-deposit/>. The system requires 24 hours to initially verify a student's account. Processing of direct deposit refunds takes two to three business days.

Late Fees

The Drexel University may assess a late fee of 1% on any charge that remains unpaid after a due date, as specified by your billing statement (eBill). Students should be sure to pay all bills on time to avoid late fees. However, a situation may arise in which a student is not able to make a timely payment, either due to personal circumstances or because of some institutional delay. Students may request to have a late fee removed by submitting a Late Fee Dispute to Drexel Central. While the matter is being reviewed, students should still pay any undisputed portion of their bill. Contact the law school's financial aid office directly at 215.895.1044 for more information about this process.

Eligibility Requirements (to maintain loans and scholarships)

Law school scholarship recipients may be required to maintain a minimum cumulative GPA to retain their scholarship, per their scholarship award letter. Students should refer to the terms of their scholarship award letter and/or consult with the Senior Associate Dean of Students.

Students who drop below 4.5 credits in any semester will not be eligible for federal aid.

Students should be aware that their financial aid award – both loans and scholarships – can be affected by academic performance and other factors. Further, students must make “satisfactory academic progress” to remain eligible for federal financial aid. The standards for maintaining satisfactory academic progress can be found at <http://drexel.edu/drexelcentral/finaid/forms/losing-eligibility/satisfactory-academic-progress/>

Students who enroll beyond 150% of the published program length without graduating may no longer be eligible for federal financial aid. Students may continue in the program beyond that time, if all other requirements are met; however, they will no longer be eligible for federal financial aid.

Information about eligibility for federal aid, including the descriptions of the types of federal loans available can be found on the Financial Aid Page of the Drexel website at <http://www.drexel.edu/drexelcentral/finaid/loans/>.

Bar Requirements

Students should be aware that each state sets its own rules for admission to the bar and that these standards vary significantly state to state, and only a few states allow students without a United States Juris Doctor degree to be admitted. Students are responsible for learning the admission rules in the jurisdiction or jurisdictions in which they intend to practice. For a list of links to all state bar examiner’s web pages and other information, please visit <http://drexel.edu/law/studentLife/barPrep/>. In particular, foreign-trained LLM students who intend to take a bar exam should review the eligibility requirements and consult with the Director of International Programs at the beginning of their studies.

Further, students should be aware that all jurisdictions impose character and fitness requirements, which differ from jurisdiction to jurisdiction. All students should familiarize themselves with the requirements in any jurisdiction in which they intend to practice.

Students should be aware that many jurisdictions verify bar applications and criminal background checks against disclosures made by students on their application to law school to determine if students disclosed fully on their law school applications. If the bar authorities discover that a candidate was not candid in the law school admissions process, even if the candidate discloses voluntarily to the bar authorities, this lack of candor may pose a significant obstacle in gaining admission to the bar. Please be sure that you have been completely candid in your application to the Kline School of Law and contact the Senior Associate Dean of Students to determine the process for amending your application if an omission was made.

Matriculated students are required to report in a timely manner any arrest, written warning, or any incident in which they are taken into custody, or accused formally or informally of any offense (other than a minor traffic violation for which they received a citation or ticket), regardless of disposition of the matter. Failure to make a timely report to the Senior Associate Dean of Students may constitute a violation of the Code of Conduct.

Disability Accommodations

The mission of the Office of Equality and Diversity's Disability Resources team (DR) at Drexel is to advocate for people with disabilities and to provide equal opportunities and equal access to education, employment, programs and activities at Drexel University. DR also provides guidance and education to the campus community.

All members and guests of Drexel University who have a disability must contact the Disability Resources team if requesting auxiliary aids, accommodations, or services to fully participate in Drexel University's programs and activities. All requests are considered on a case-by-case basis and in a timely fashion.

The process for requesting and receiving an Accommodations Verification Letter (AVL) is outlined at <http://www.drexel.edu/oed/disabilityResources/students/>. AVLs relating to classroom accommodations must be given to each professor and to the program advisor as received. AVLs related to exam accommodations must be given to the program advisor by the last day of classes for the term for the student to be guaranteed the accommodation(s).

Updating with Disability Resources Each Term

AVLs are only valid for one term. If the student plans to continue using accommodations in a subsequent term, a new request for accommodations must be submitted to DR. The student should then schedule a follow-up appointment with a DR staff member to discuss the request made. To avoid any interruption of accommodations or services, the Request for Accommodations should be submitted to DR well before the start of a new semester.

Confidentiality

The Disability Resources team is charged with the responsibility for maintaining disability-related documentation of all students and employees of Drexel University. At the law school, the Assistant Dean of Academic & Student Services maintains these files. Both DR and the law school are committed to ensuring all records are kept confidential as required by law. Information will not be released without consent unless federal or state law requires or permits it. Information will be shared with others in the university community on a need-to-know basis only. However, a student may sign a written consent form giving permission to discuss the disability and limitations with faculty, staff, and/or parents who require further information.

Contact Information

Disability Resources is located at 3225 Arch Street, and can be contacted at 215.895.1401(V), 215.895.2299 (TTY), 215.895.1402 (Fax), or disability@drexel.edu. For additional information, students can also access the DR website at <http://www.drexel.edu/oed/disabilityResources/Overview/>. Students should also feel free to contact the Senior Associate Dean of Students with their concerns.

International Students and Scholars Services

International Students and Scholars Services (ISSS) provides assistance to all visa holders at Drexel University. ISSS advises international students and scholars on immigration-related and cross-cultural adjustment issues. The international student advisors in ISSS assist with work authorization, program transfers and extensions, reinstatements, and other immigration-related advising. Additionally, ISSS provides cultural and educational enrichment activities throughout the year.

All new international students and scholars must report upon arrival in the U.S. to ISSS to register passports and attend the required international student orientation. ISSS is in Suite 222 of the university Main Building, 3141 Chestnut Street. Office hours are Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. The office can be reached by telephone at 215.895.2502.

International Advising

ISSS has the responsibility to be aware of and abide by the University's policies, rules, regulations and standards as well as the regulations set forth by the United States Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) and the Department of State (DOS). Immigration regulations change with little or no advance notification. Although the University, through ISSS, attempts to notify non-immigrant visa holders of these changes, it remains the student's responsibility to know the immigration regulations and policies that affect her/his academic career in the U.S. USCIS and DOS regulations supersede University departmental policies, rules, regulations, and standards of conduct.

International students should comply with all requirements set forth by the U.S. government, which are updated on ISSS's website at http://drexel.edu/studentaffairs/get_involved/international_students_scholars/

International LLM students who have questions about the law school, or its program or policies should contact Prof. Clare Coleman, Director of International Student Programs.

Class Cancellations and Rescheduled Classes

Students will be notified of class cancellations and rescheduling's via email and/or in the classroom, if there is insufficient time for students to receive the information via email. If inclement weather or other emergency results in the cancellation of all scheduled classes, information will be posted on the school's website and available at 215-895-MELT (6358).

Observance of Religious Holidays

The law school respects students' observance of major religious holidays. The faculty is sensitive to the observance of these holidays on days when classes remain in session and will work with students to minimize the effects of student absences. Students who plan to be absent for religious holidays should notify their professors as soon as possible so that the faculty can make any necessary arrangements. Students with concerns about attendance and religious holidays should contact the Senior Associate Dean of Students.

Student Records

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) affords students certain rights with respect to their educational records. For complete information about FERPA rights, please visit <http://www.drexel.edu/provost/policies/ferpa.asp>. Students may also contact the Office of Student Affairs with any specific questions regarding viewing, obtaining, or correcting their record.

Libraries

Legal Research Center (LRC)

The Legal Research Center is operating under reduced hours and capacity for 2020-21 due to COVID-19. Please visit <https://drexel.edu/law/academics/library/> for detailed information on reserving use of the library space. The LRC's main telephone number is 215.571.4772.

Law students receive $10 of free credit towards printing or copying per semester, and may add additional value to their DragonCards in the LRC. Printing and copying costs are listed at <http://drexel.edu/law/academics/library/printing-copying/>. The LRC also has dedicated Lexis printers; students can send their Lexis print jobs to those printers without charge.

Hagerty Library

Hagerty is the main University library; it is attached to the LRC and also has an entrance on 33rd street between Market and Ludlow streets. For 2020-21, Hagerty Library is temporarily closed to law students temporarily due to reduced capacity.

Computer and Laptop Policies

Computer Accounts

All members of the University community are eligible for accounts, which include Drexel Connect, e-mail, Academic UNIX, and network access. Accounts may be activated at <http://accounts.drexel.edu>. Single-portal access to most Drexel computing services is through Drexel Connect at <http://one.drexel.edu>.

The Accounts Administration Office, located in the Korman Computing Center, handles all requests for accounts on the IRT-supported servers. Lawtech is also available to assist with certain account issues.

Drexel user accounts are assigned to individuals and are not to be shared unless specifically authorized by Drexel University Information Technology. Each User is solely responsible for all functions performed from accounts assigned to them (see <http://drexel.edu/it/about/policies/policies/01-acceptable-use/>).

Computer requirements

Since 1983 it has been Drexel University policy that each student must have personal access to a computer in his or her place of residence -- whether a residence hall, apartment, or at home. This has been identified as a requirement for success in Drexel's academic program and in the professional world. The computer is a vital and necessary educational tool.

While the University provides a number of computers in public areas, their availability is limited; they are intended to supplement your own computer rather than replace it.

<https://drexel.edu/it/computers-software/buying-guide/faq/>

Recommended specifications for personally owned computers can be found here:

<https://drexel.edu/it/computers-software/buying-guide/>

Acceptable Use Policy

Drexel University's Acceptable Use Policy (AUP) sets forth the standards by which all students, faculty, staff and authorized guests (hereafter referred to collectively as "User(s)") may use their assigned computer accounts, email services and the shared Drexel University network. The use of Drexel's computer and network resources including all electronic communication systems and equipment (hereafter referred to collectively as the "Drexel Network") is a revocable privilege.

The Drexel network is provided to support Drexel University business and its mission of education, service and research. Any other uses, including uses that jeopardize the integrity of the Drexel Network, the privacy or safety of other Users, or that are otherwise illegal are prohibited.

By using or accessing the Drexel Network, Users agree to comply with the AUP and other applicable Drexel policies which may be implemented from time to time, as well as all Federal, state, local laws and regulations. Using and/or accessing the Drexel Network without proper authorization is strictly prohibited. Users should not have any expectation of privacy with regard to communications passed through the network or stored on computers that use it.

The complete Acceptable Use Policy is published at

<https://drexel.edu/it/about/policies/policies/01-Acceptable-Use/>

This section is a synopsis and is meant for summary purposes only. Users are responsible for being aware of any changes to the AUP. Penalties for violating this policy may include restricted access or loss of access to the Drexel Network, termination and/or expulsion from the University and in some cases, civil and/or criminal liability.

The University reserves the right to update or revise the AUP or implement additional policies in the future. Users are responsible for staying informed about University policies regarding the use of computer and network resources and complying with all applicable policies. See: <http://drexel.edu/it/about/policies/>

General guidelines for acceptable use of the Drexel network are based on the following principles:

- Users must behave responsibly with respect to the Drexel Network at all times.
- Users must respect the integrity and the security of the Drexel Network.
- Users must behave in a manner consistent with Drexel's mission and comply with all applicable laws, regulations, and Drexel policies.
- Users must be considerate of the needs of other users by making every reasonable effort not to impede the ability of others to use the Drexel Network and show restraint in the consumption of shared resources.
- Users must respect the rights and property of others, including privacy, confidentiality and intellectual property.

Activities specifically prohibited are enumerated completely at:

<http://drexel.edu/it/about/policies/policies/01-acceptable-use/>. They include, but are not limited to:

- Use of the Drexel Network for a private business, commercial or political activities, fundraising, or advertising on behalf of non-Drexel organizations, unlawful activities or uses that violate other Drexel University policies;
- Attempting to bypass network security mechanisms;
- Disrupting or interfering with others' legitimate use of Drexel systems;
- Forging, altering, destroying, monitoring, or intercepting communications;
- Attempting to disguise one's identity, the identity of an account or the machine being used;
- Possession or distribution of unlawful communications; and
- Infringing upon the intellectual property rights of others.

Violations of these or other University rules or policies are also violations of the law school's Code of Conduct.

Laptop Use in Class

Individual professors may set rules and requirements for the use of laptop computers in their classrooms, including prohibiting their use. The use of laptops in any class should be limited to activities directly related to the class, including taking notes and the use of the internet as directed by the professor. Accessing non-course related websites or otherwise using the internet during class may be disruptive to other class members and may result in sanctions by the professor.

DragonNet: Law School Intranet

Students can log into DragonNet, the law school's intranet site, to obtain information posted by different departments and student organizations. Students can retrieve exam information, registration information, forms and more from DragonNet. To log into Community Property, go to https://drexel0.sharepoint.com/sites/Law_Hub, and enter your Drexel username and password.

Communications

Each student is assigned a Drexel University e-mail account. The law school requires students to check this account at least daily. Faculty and administration use e-mail to communicate with students, and official notices may be provided by e-mail to the student's Drexel account. Students are deemed to have knowledge of all communications sent from the faculty and the administration that are sent to their Drexel University e-mail accounts. Additionally, individual professors may have specific requirements with respect to e-mail or other class communications. Students' failure to obtain notice from the law school's administrators, faculty, and staff because of their failure to check, read, forward, or maintain their Drexel University e-mail account is not a defense for any failure to timely act in response to any notice sent to the students' Drexel University e-mail account.

For students' own security, all communications to faculty, staff, or administrators should come from the student's Drexel email account, and emails containing personally identifiable information will only be sent to the student's Drexel email account.

The Kline School of Law expects that all communications between students and faculty members or staff, regardless of modality, will be courteous, respectful, and professional. Accordingly, all communications should be addressed formally (e.g., "Dear Professor") and use professional language, appropriate tone, and proper grammar and spelling.

Cell Phones and Other Electronic Devices

Cell phones and other electronic devices must be turned off in classes, lectures, the Legal Research Center, and other law school presentations or formal activities. If an emergency requires a cell phone to be on, it must be placed on a silent mode and the student should exit the classroom as quietly as possible to take the call outside. Students should remember that cell phone conversations can be extremely distracting to others, and they should not engage in conversations where those who are studying or working may be disturbed.

Except for a laptop running the approved exam software, students may not have cell phones and other electronic devices of any kind at their seat or on their person at any time during examinations, unless the professor has expressly designated them as authorized materials. Complete exam policies may be found in the Final Examinations and Papers section of this Handbook.

DragonCards

The DragonCard is the official ID card of Drexel University. The DragonCard is property of Drexel University and is governed by University regulations. The card serves to identify students, staff, and faculty of Drexel University and is required to access the Law Building, the Legal Research Center, meal plans, Dragon Dollars, and other campus buildings and services. The DragonCard Office on the Main Campus is located at:

Creese Student Center
3210 Chestnut Street, Suite
124 215.895.6095
Hours: M-Th 8 a.m.-7 p.m. // Fr 8 a.m.-5 p.m.

DragonCards are issued only to students who are registered for classes for the current term and cannot be distributed prior to the start of the term. To receive a DragonCard, students must upload a photo per the instructions at <http://drexel.edu/dba/dragonCard/obtaining/>.

DragonCards will be distributed to new students at orientation, provided they have uploaded their ID photo by the deadline stated. Students must present a valid photo ID to receive their DragonCard.

Temporary ID cards are issued as a service at the request of the student. For any given term, a student, staff, or faculty member may receive one temporary ID valid for seven days or two temporary IDs valid for one day each. To receive a temporary ID card, students must be registered for the current term.

Card Possession

The DragonCard must be carried at all times while on University-owned property, as students may be required to produce proper Drexel identification to a Public Safety officer or University official. Students may only have one DragonCard in their possession; additional DragonCards must be turned in to the DragonCard Office. The DragonCard is not transferable and is not permitted to be used by anyone other than the cardholder. The DragonCard must be shown on demand if requested by a Public Safety officer or a University official.

Each calendar year, students must bring their DragonCards to one of the validation locations to have their registration status verified and receive a validation sticker noting the current calendar year. Students without validated DragonCards are not permitted access to most buildings and services on campus.

Card Replacement

Replacement cards, including name changes, re-issuances, or lost/stolen cards can be issued. A replacement fee will apply. All members of the University community can immediately mark their card as “lost” via the GET Portal to prevent unauthorized usage and learn more information about these instances at drexel.edu/dragoncard. A new photo is required for all new card issuances.

Card Access

Students who are inactive, or have holds on their accounts, will not be able to use their DragonCard for access to buildings, meal plans, Dragon Dollars, or other University services. If your DragonCard is not working for access, please visit one of the DragonCard Offices to resolve the issue.

Books

The Drexel University bookstores are operated by Barnes and Noble College Bookstores. The bookstore for the University City Campus is located at 33rd & Chestnut Streets. The store stocks new and used textbooks, school supplies, and emblematic clothing.

Students may view and order their textbooks online through the Barnes & Noble Drexel University Bookstore website at <http://drexel.bncollege.com>. They can also follow the course materials links directly from their class schedule in DrexelOne.

Health-Related Policies

All questions related to the policies described below should be directed to the Office of Counseling and Health by visiting Suite 201 of the Creese Student Center or calling the office at 215.895.1415.

Health Insurance

All full-time students are required to demonstrate proof of coverage under a health insurance plan each academic year. Domestic students may satisfy the requirement by purchasing the Drexel Health Insurance plan or by waiving the insurance online. Failure to waive the coverage or purchase the university-sponsored plan will result in the student's default enrollment into the university-sponsored plan. The charge for this plan will subsequently appear on the student's university bill. Once this charge has been placed on the student's account it cannot be removed and students will be enrolled in the Drexel Student Health Insurance for the full academic year. All international students holding a J-1 Visa are required to purchase the Drexel plan. This plan meets all the requirements for students on J-1 Visas, and all recommendations for international students on F-1 Visas. The policy covers students in our local area as well as worldwide. The plan must be purchased immediately upon entrance into Drexel University and must be purchased for the full academic year.

Immunization Policy

Drexel University requires all entering full-time students to have or receive certain immunizations. The immunization requirement is based on the recommendations of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania Department of Health Immunization and the American College Health Association. Though subject to change, the immunization schedule currently requires:

- MMR vaccine: measles, mumps, rubella (2 doses or blood test showing immunity with lab report included);
- Hepatitis B vaccine (2 doses, 3 preferred or blood test showing immunity with lab report included);
- Tuberculosis Questionnaire and testing if necessary
- Varicella (chicken pox; history of disease or 2 doses or titer showing immunity with lab report included);
- Diphtheria/Tetanus/Pertussis (TDAP) within the past 10 years; and
- Meningococcal (for any student 21 years old or younger and all students living in University housing). Drexel University highly recommends, but does not require, the meningitis vaccine for commuter students.

Students must prove fulfillment of this requirement by completing the Immunization Record and Tuberculosis Questionnaire. This form has the most current requirement information and is also available on-line at <http://drexel.edu/healthservices/insurance-immunizations/forms/>

Failure to comply with this policy will result in an administrative hold being placed on the student's record, which will prevent the student from accessing DrexelOne, adjusting their course schedule, and using the Legal Research Center or the Recreation Center. Residential students who have not complied with the stated immunization policy will not be permitted access to their residential hall, and all students will be prevented from receiving their Dragon Card until this requirement is satisfied.

To obtain forms or to read about the Health Insurance or Immunization Policies, please visit <http://drexel.edu/healthservices/insurance-immunizations/overview/>.

COVID-19

Please refer to the COVID-19 addendum to this handbook for health and conduct-related policies specific to the coronavirus.

Smoking Policy

This policy was established to maintain a smoke-free environment for students, faculty, staff, contractors and visitors. Consistent with a smoke-free University and in support of a smoke-free Philadelphia, the sale of all tobacco products is prohibited on campus property.

Smoking is prohibited (including electronic cigarettes) within 20 feet of any entrance, exit, operable window, or air in-take of a University owned and/or operated building to include sidewalks and thoroughfares.

The University prohibits the smoking or carrying of lighted tobacco products in all indoor facilities, including interior connections to buildings, covered walkways, all building stairwells, hallways, restrooms, fire escapes, parking structures, University owned vehicles, outdoor athletic/recreation facilities, and during all University-sponsored indoor or outdoor events.

All University sponsored activities taking place at facilities not owned or operated by the University will be smoke-free in those areas under the University's control.

Grievances³

A. Resolving Complaints Involving Faculty, Academic Deans, School Directors, Program Directors or Department Heads, including Academic Complaints/Grievances

Formal complaints of harassment or discrimination against University employees must be filed with the Office of Equality and Diversity. Throughout this process, students are free to contact the Senior Associate Dean of Students for advice and consultation.

³ This section does not apply to grade appeals. Please see the Grade Changes section for those procedures.

For complaints involving Faculty, Academic Deans, School Directors, Program Directors or Department Heads, but not involving claims of harassment or discrimination, the following steps should be followed:

Step I: Faculty Member/Director

Every effort should always be made to resolve an issue directly with the individual faculty member or director. When this is not possible and/or did not resolve the issue, individuals should file a complaint, in writing, to the Dean of the law school.

Step II: Filing a complaint with the Dean of the Law School

Students may discuss the complaint with the Senior Associate Dean of Students, Associate Dean for Academic Affairs, or the Dean of the law school informally or choose to file, in writing, a formal complaint. If the student files a formal complaint, the Dean will send the student a final written response.

Step III: Office of the Provost

If a student is still not satisfied with the result, the student may appeal the decision to the Office of the Provost, in writing, within 5 days of receipt of the result from the Dean of the law school. The student should clearly state the basis on which he or she is appealing the Dean's decision and the reasons why the decision should be amended. The Provost or designee will review the written materials related to the appeal and may make any other inquiries he or she deems appropriate to evaluate the appeal. The decision rendered by the Office of the Provost is final. A faculty member cannot appeal the decision of the Provost.

B. Resolving Complaints Involving Staff and Administrators

Formal complaints of harassment or discrimination against University employees must be filed with the Office of Equality and Diversity. Throughout this process, students are free to contact the Senior Associate Dean of Students for advice and consultation.

For complaints involving Staff and Administrators, but not involving claims of harassment or discrimination, the following steps should be followed:

Step I: Staff or administrator

Every effort should always be made to resolve an issue directly with the individual. When this is not possible and/or did not resolve the issue, individuals should file a complaint, in writing, to the individual's immediate supervisor.

Step II: Filing a complaint with the immediate supervisor

Students may discuss the complaint with the immediate supervisor informally or choose to file, in writing, a formal complaint.

Step III: Appeal to the Dean of the Law School

If a student is not satisfied with the decision of the supervisor and wishes to pursue the matter further, he or she may contact the Dean of the law school, in writing, within 5 days of receipt of notification of the supervisor's decision. The Dean will send the student a final written response.

Step IV: Appeal to the Senior Vice President

If a student is still not satisfied with the result, the student may appeal the decision to the Senior Vice President who oversees that area, in writing, within 5 days of receipt of the final result from the Dean. The student should clearly state the basis on which he or she is appealing the Dean's decision and the reasons why the decision should be amended. The Senior Vice President or designee will review the written materials related to the appeal and may make any other inquiries he or she deems appropriate to evaluate the appeal. The decision rendered by the Senior Vice President is final. A staff member or administrator may not appeal the decision of the Senior Vice President.

C. Resolving Complaints Involving Fellow Students

All complaints of discrimination, harassment, gender discrimination, or sexual harassment involving fellow students must be filed with the Office of Equality and Diversity pursuant to the University's Equality and Non-Discrimination Policy (OED-1). This policy can be found at <http://www.drexel.edu/oed/policies/>

III. STUDENT SAFETY AND HEALTH RESOURCES

Public Safety

Overview

The Department of Public Safety Operations Unit is responsible for emergency communications; the design, installation, and maintenance of state-of-the-art electronic security; and for data analysis and crime mapping for the University.

Website: <http://drexel.edu/publicsafety/>

Police Department

The Drexel University Police Department is composed of full-time sworn municipal police officers certified through the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania Municipal Police Officers Education and Training Commission (MPOETC) with law enforcement authority at Drexel University's three campuses (University City Campus, Center City Campus, and Queen Lane Campus). Officers conduct vehicle, bicycle and foot patrols and regularly meet and consult with students, faculty and staff regarding crime prevention and safety issues and share tactical, strategic and investigative information with other law enforcement agencies. DUPD Detectives are responsible for investigating crimes, complaints and incidents that occur on campus property or within the University's patrol boundaries.

Website: <http://drexel.edu/publicsafety/policing-security/overview/>

Security Services

The Security Services Unit is responsible for security officer management of our contracted security partner AlliedBarton Security. Public Safety security officers provide service to the Drexel community 24/7 and are responsible for enforcing the policies and procedures set forth by Drexel University. Their primary role includes community patrols by vehicle, bicycle and on foot which are coordinated with Drexel University Police. They also provide a security presence in residential, academic and administrative buildings as well as special event security and perform 24/7 Walking Escorts. These officers are unarmed and equipped with two-way radios with which they maintain communication with the Public Safety Communications Center.

Drexel Public Safety security officers may detain individuals for violations, when appropriate, until custody can be transferred to a University police officer. For violations of the University Student Code of Conduct, Public Safety security officers also make referrals requesting student conduct proceedings.

Security Services is also responsible for performing security assessments, crime prevention awareness and education, and the Rape Aggression Defense Program.

Website: <http://drexel.edu/publicsafety/policing-security/overview/>

Reporting Incidents

Any student, faculty or staff member who is a victim of crime, observes an incidence of crime or witnesses suspicious activity is strongly encouraged to promptly report the information to the Department of Public Safety by calling 215.895.2222, 24 hours a day, seven days a week, or by using one of the many emergency call boxes that directly establishes communication with the Public Safety Communications Center.

Calls for service will be answered by a certified Department of Public Safety Dispatcher who is trained to gather information and to dispatch the appropriate personnel to the location to take the necessary steps to address the situation and /or document the incident.

Anyone reporting an incident should be prepared to provide as much detailed information as possible such as name, location, time, date, and a description of the incident and to speak in a clear and calm manner.

All calls to the Public Safety emergency number (215.895.2222) or the non-emergency number (215.895.2822) and all emergency call box lines are digitally recorded for safety and quality assurance purposes.

Crime Statistics and Daily Crime Log

Drexel University, in compliance with the Clery Act, publishes an annual report for current and prospective students and employees. This report contains important safety information and crime statistics for the previous three years. These statistics pertain to reported crimes that have occurred on campus, in certain non-campus buildings or properties that are owned or controlled by Drexel University, and on public property within, or immediately adjacent to and accessible from the campus.

In addition, the Pennsylvania College and University Security Act governs the responsibility of PA institutions of higher education to report crime statistics and rates and to provide descriptions of security policies and procedures to applicants, matriculated students and employees. Colleges and universities are currently required to collect statistics on and report rates of crimes occurring on campus. The act requires colleges and universities to keep and maintain a daily log of campus crime activity and make it available for public inspection.

The reports and logs are available at <http://drexel.edu/publicsafety/crime-reports-prevention/overview/>.

If you believe there has been a violation of one or more of the provisions of the Pennsylvania College and University Security Information Act, you may file a complaint at the Department of Public Safety. The complaint will be forwarded to the Senior Associate Vice President for Public Safety, who will respond. If, after receiving a reply to the complaint, you still feel that the violation has been committed, you may appeal to the Senior Vice President for Student Life and Administrative Services, who has the ultimate responsibility to receive and resolve such complaints. Information is available by calling 215.895.1550 or online at <http://www.drexel.edu/publicsafety>.

Security Awareness/Crime Prevention Emergency Call Boxes

Emergency call boxes are strategically placed throughout the University City Main Campus for safety and security. These emergency call boxes, when activated, automatically contact the Department of Public Safety Communications Center and notify the dispatcher of the caller's exact location. The Public Safety dispatchers are trained to send officers to call box activations regardless if someone answers or not. Students and staff are encouraged to learn the location of the emergency call boxes and to use them for all security-related and emergency communications. Any problems regarding the condition and/or use of the emergency call boxes should be reported immediately by calling 215.895.2822.

Walking and Medical Escorts

The Drexel University Department of Public Safety provides walking escorts for all Drexel students, faculty and staff, 24 hours a day, 365 days a year to allow safe travel from one location to another. Walking escorts are provided on all campuses to any location within the Department of Public Safety patrol area. On the University City Campus, it is 30th to 36th streets / Chestnut to Spring Garden streets. Escorts are also available from 10 a.m. until 3 a.m. between 30th St. and 42nd St. and Wallace St. to Woodland Ave. from 42nd St. to 50th St. from Market St. to Woodland Ave. through the University's partnership with the University of Pennsylvania and University City District Ambassador Program. To request a walking escort:

- Ask any Public Safety police or security officer on patrol or inside a building
- Call the Public Safety Communications Center at 215.895.2822
- Use one of the many University emergency telephones located across campus

The Drexel University Department of Public Safety provides medical escorts on all campuses for non-life-threatening medical conditions to Drexel University approved hospitals, emergency rooms and healthcare centers. For additional information, contact the Drexel University Communications Center at 215.895.2822.

Drexel Guardian

The Drexel Guardian system allows you to download a smartphone app that can send your information to the Drexel Public Safety Communications Center in an emergency. The system also allows you to set a timer for reaching a target destination and contacts the Drexel University Police Department if the timer is not deactivated.

More information about how to set up these services is available at <http://drexel.edu/publicsafety/communications-operations/drexel-guardian/>

Campus Shuttle

The Department of Facilities Management provides campus shuttle service to the University community. Members of the Drexel community are permitted unlimited usage at no charge. Upon boarding the shuttle, individuals are required to present a valid

Drexel ID card to the driver. Schedules for the shuttle are available at the Creese Student Center and online at <http://www.drexel.edu/facilities/transportation/busServiceSchedules/>

Drexel University also has a reciprocity agreement with the University of Pennsylvania allowing Drexel students to ride the University of Pennsylvania fixed route campus bus service, free of charge. This service generally operates as far west as 48th Street and Woodland Avenue and as far east as 20th and South Streets.

Identification Cards

All current students, faculty and staff are issued identification cards for the purpose of entering campus buildings and events, as well as to access many University services. All students, faculty and staff are required to produce a proper Drexel ID (DragonCard) upon request from a Public Safety or University official. Individuals are not permitted to lend their ID (DragonCard) to another person, use another individual's Drexel University ID Card or tamper with the ID card in any manner. It is the responsibility of the ID card (DragonCard) holder to notify the DragonCard office if their ID card fails to operate correctly. If an ID card is lost or stolen it should be immediately reported to the Department of Public Safety at 215.895.2822.

Building Access

All University buildings and residences are the private property of Drexel University and are posted as such. These buildings are opened at a designated time each morning and secured at a designated time each evening by assigned personnel. Any unauthorized person entering a University building is considered to be trespassing. After-hours access to University buildings is determined by the needs of each department. Once a building has been secured for the evening, only authorized individuals are permitted to enter.

Crime Prevention

A series of crime prevention seminars and orientations are offered throughout the year for all students and employees. Information about the Rape Aggression Defense (RAD) Program, bike registration program, and safeguarding your valuables can be found at <http://drexel.edu/publicsafety/crime-reports-prevention/programs/>.

The Department of Public Safety, Office of Fire and Life Safety, has also developed an emergency preparedness and response plan. An outline of the plan along with procedures and tips for dealing with an emergency can be located at <http://drexel.edu/publicsafety/fire-emergency/drexel-ready/>.

Public Safety Alerts

Drexel University has implemented an emergency notification system called DrexelALERT. DrexelALERT is designed to provide emergency information regarding situations that constitute an ongoing threat to the Drexel community, such as an armed suspect on the loose, active fire or credible bomb threat, to name a few situations. An "all clear" message will be sent once an emergency situation is stabilized and it is deemed to be safe to resume normal activity. DrexelALERTs are not meant to be news releases regarding incidents that may have occurred or do not amount to an ongoing threat. The effectiveness of this emergency notification system depends upon individuals providing accurate up-to-date personal contact information. The Public Safety Department web site also provides current security and safety-related information to the Drexel community.

Counseling Center

The Counseling Center offers free, confidential counseling services provided by mental health professionals to currently enrolled full-time undergraduate and graduate students in an atmosphere that is welcoming and comfortable for all students.

The type of issues that students most frequently bring to the Counseling Center include anxiety related problems, depression, family concerns, relationship issues, adjustment issues, eating disorders, alcohol and drug related problems and questions about sexual identity. Students also seek treatment and/or support for significant, previously diagnosed psychological disorders. The professionally licensed staff is trained to manage these issues. A number of resources are listed at <http://drexel.edu/counselingandhealth/>

201 Creese Student Center

3210 Chestnut Street

215.895.1415

Hours: M-Th 8am-6pm // Fr 8am-5pm

After-Hours Emergency: 215.416.3337

Evening hours are available by appointment. Walk-ins are accommodated as quickly as possible, depending on counselor availability. Daytime emergencies are seen immediately by the on-call counselor. Students can also call 911 or go directly to the nearest hospital emergency room for treatment. A list of area emergency resources can be found at <http://drexel.edu/counselingandhealth/emergency/overview/>

Health Services

Drexel Student Health Center

215.220.4700

Hours: M, W, F 8:30am-5:00pm // T, Th 10:30am-7pm

Visits to the Drexel Student Health Center (DSHC) are by appointment. Students who are sick are encouraged to contact them as early in the day as possible to receive same day services. Refer to the COVID-19 addendum to this handbook for information specific to the coronavirus.

The DSHC is staffed with faculty physicians and nurse practitioners from the Drexel University College of Medicine Department of Family and Community Medicine. DSHC provides a range of health services in a confidential environment.

Students may also access the Women's Care Center (WCC) on the Center City Campus. WCC offers comprehensive family planning (contraception, STD screening, and treatment and counseling), gynecologic and obstetric services. Visits are by appointment.

When a student is sick or injured, he or she can request medical transport to and from Drexel University Student Health Center by calling Public Safety at 215.895.2822.

Hours of operation, fees, and a complete list of services offered can be found at: <http://drexel.edu/counselingandhealth/student-health-center/overview/>.

Alcohol, Other Drug, and Health Education

The Office of Alcohol, Other Drug, and Health Education provides a variety of educational initiatives on alcohol, other drug, and health issues such as: STDs, eating habits, body image, stress, relationships, date/acquaintance rape, and personal safety. For more information, visit Suite 201 of the Creese Student Center, or call the office at 215.762.7625.

Substance Abuse Assistance

Drexel University is concerned about any member of the community who has a problem with substance abuse. Assistance is available for you through campus and community resources. Please do not hesitate to reach out for support by contacting the people and/or agencies listed at <http://drexel.edu/healthservices/alcohol-drug-education/resources/> http://www.drexel.edu/studentlife/community_standards/studentHandbook/.

IV. THOMAS R. KLINE SCHOOL OF LAW CODE OF CONDUCT

In addition to the Thomas R. Kline School of Law Code of Conduct, law students are subject to the Drexel University Code of Conduct. This Code, which covers non-academic conduct on and off campus, is available at http://www.drexel.edu/studentlife/community_standards/studentHandbook/. The provisions of the University Code are enforced by the “Procedures for Actions Under the Code of Conduct” for the law school, in consultation with the University.

Students should refer to the COVID-19 addendum to this handbook for policies regarding behavioral expectations in place for the coronavirus pandemic.

THOMAS R. KLINE SCHOOL OF LAW CODE OF CONDUCT

(adopted by the law school faculty in Fall 2013)

General Ethical Principles

All students shall strive to maintain the highest professional and ethical standards while enrolled in the Kline School of Law. All students are governed both by this Code of Conduct and the ethical standards of the legal profession.

Prohibited Conduct

The following acts are prohibited under the Code of Conduct and subject students to the sanctions authorized under this Code:

- 1. Cheating. Cheating on any examination or other assignment, including but not limited to:
 - (a) the unauthorized giving or receiving of material aid or assistance;
 - (b) the unauthorized use of information;
 - (c) the possession of unauthorized materials during an examination;
 - (d) the unauthorized submission of work which has already been submitted to satisfy a course requirement in another class or required as a part of any Law Review or moot court obligation;
 - (e) the unauthorized receipt of assistance from any person not expressly authorized by the professor or supervisor of the activity;
 - (f) beginning an examination before the prescribed time or continuing to work on an examination after the announced conclusion of the examination period, unless authorized to do so by Kline School of Law officials responsible for such matters; or
 - (g) the giving or obtaining of any unfair academic advantage.
- 2. Plagiarism. Plagiarism is defined as the inclusion of someone else’s words, ideas, or data as one’s own work. When a student submits work for credit that includes the words, ideas, or data of others, the source of that information must be acknowledged through complete, accurate, and specific citations. If verbatim statements are included, those statements must be clearly identified by the use of quotation marks as well. By placing his/her name on work submitted for credit, the student certifies the originality of all work not otherwise identified by appropriate acknowledgments. Plagiarism covers unpublished as well as published sources. Examples of plagiarism include, but are not limited to:

- (a) the knowing or reckless copying or paraphrasing without citation of any material written by another;
- (b) the knowing or reckless submission of work as one's own if written in whole or in substantial part by someone other than the student submitting the work;
- (c) the knowing or reckless use of the language of another without identification by quotation marks or otherwise, even though the source is cited in the student's work.

3. Misuse of Library Materials. The mutilation, destruction, concealment or wrongful appropriation of any library materials at the Legal Research Center, the Hagerty Library, or the Jenkins Law Library;

4. Recording and Reproduction of Class Lectures and Materials. Except as otherwise provided by each individual professor in their written syllabi, the audio and/or visual recording of class lectures by means of any recording device, and the copying or other form of reproduction (other than in-class notes and the composition of class outlines) of any material in any form used by a professor in a class.

5. Misrepresentation to Gain Admission. The knowing or reckless misrepresentation or non-disclosure of any material fact concerning the student's qualification for admission to the Kline School of Law;

6. Unprofessional Conduct in any Co-Op Placement or Clinical Course. Any act or omission which violates the rules of professional conduct of the state in which the student is serving in a co-op placement or clinical course;

7. False Representation of Attendance in Class. The knowing misrepresentation of any student's attendance in class.

8. Discrimination or Harassment. It is a violation of the Code of Conduct to engage in discrimination, harassment, intimidation, or verbal abuse of any faculty member, student, and/or staff member of the Kline School of Law or Drexel University. Harassment is defined in the University's Equality and Non-Discrimination Policy (OED-1). This policy can be found at <http://www.drexel.edu/oed/policies/>.

All complaints of discrimination or harassment must be filed with the Office of Equality and Diversity pursuant to the University's Equality and Non-Discrimination Policy (OED-1).

9. Sexual Harassment and Misconduct.

The University is committed to providing an environment free from discrimination, including discrimination based on sex, and has a zero-tolerance policy concerning any and all forms of sexual harassment and misconduct. The University prohibits sexual harassment and misconduct in any form, including, but not limited to, sexual assault, sexual violence, sexual abuse, and any form of nonconsensual sexual conduct.

The University's Sexual Harassment and Misconduct Policy (OED-3) can be found at <http://www.drexel.edu/oed/policies/>.

The University community is strongly encouraged to report incidents of sexual violence and child abuse to Drexel University Police Department, 3219 Arch Street, Philadelphia, PA 19104 by calling 215-895-2222 or to the Philadelphia Police Department by calling 911.

Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 ("Title IX") prohibits discrimination on the basis of sex in any federally funded education program or activity.

For additional Title IX, Sex Discrimination, Harassment, and Sexual Assault Resources, please visit <http://www.drexel.edu/oed/policies/eoLaws/Title-IX/>.

10. General Unfitness. It is a violation of the Code of Conduct to engage in any act which reflects adversely upon a student's fitness to practice law, including violence, dishonesty, breach of trust, or other unprofessional conduct, or any act which interferes with the administration of justice or programs of the law school.

11. Violation of Confidentiality of Hearings by the Judicial Panel. It is an independent violation of the Code of Conduct to breach the confidentiality of any hearing of the Judicial Panel.

Procedure for Actions Under the Code of Conduct for Allegations of Discrimination, or Harassment

All complaints of Discrimination or Harassment must be filed with the Office of Equality and Diversity pursuant to the University's Equality and Non-Discrimination Policy (OED-1). This policy can be found at <http://www.drexel.edu/oed/policies/>.

Procedure for Actions Under the Code of Conduct for Allegations of Gender Discrimination or Sexual Harassment

All complaints of Gender Discrimination or Sexual Harassment must be filed with the Office of Equality and Diversity pursuant to the University's Sexual Harassment and Misconduct Policy (OED-3). This policy can be found at <http://www.drexel.edu/oed/policies/>.

Procedure for Actions Under the Code of Conduct for Allegations other than Discrimination, Harassment, Gender Discrimination or Sexual Harassment

1. Initial Report of Potential Violation. Any student, faculty member or staff member of the Kline School of Law may report a potential violation of the Code of Conduct in writing to the Senior Associate Dean of Students' office for investigation. Reports may be written or e-mailed directly to the Senior Associate Dean of Students.

Reports should include as much specific detail as possible, including the name of the potential offender, the date and time of the violation, the nature of the violation, and any evidence of the violation that the reporting individual may have. A complaint must be filed within a reasonable time after the event complained of takes place, in view of all the surrounding circumstances.

Reports may not be made anonymously; any individual who reports a potential violation must sign the report and provide contact information to the Senior Associate Dean of Students. However, the name(s) of individuals reporting a violation will remain confidential in the Senior Associate Dean of Students' office and will be released only with the permission of the reporting individual.

2. Notice. Upon receipt of the complaint, the Senior Associate Dean of Students shall notify the person or persons alleged in the complaint to have violated the Code that a complaint has been filed.

3. Review of the Report of Potential Violation by the Senior Associate Dean of Students. Upon receipt of the written report of a potential violation, the Senior Associate Dean of Students shall investigate the allegations made in the report. The investigation may include interviews with the individual(s) reporting the violation, the accused, as well as any other members of the law school community who may have information relating to the allegations. The Senior Associate Dean of Students shall also review any documents or other materials which relate to the allegations, including any materials the student accused of the violation may provide. The Senior Associate Dean of Students may also consult with the University's Judicial Officer on any matter contained in the report of a potential violation.

If the Senior Associate Dean of Students has a conflict of interest with respect to the accused student, either because he is currently teaching the accused student, or he feels that his objectivity with respect to the accused student may be questioned, the Senior Associate Dean of Students may designate a full-time faculty member or a full-time administrator of the Kline School of Law to investigate the report of a potential violation.

4. Disposition by the Senior Associate Dean of Students.

(a) Dismissal. If the Senior Associate Dean of Students determines that there is no probable cause for the complaint, or that the alleged infraction is de minimis, or that the complaint was not made within a reasonable time, the complaint shall be dismissed without further proceedings, and no record of the complaint shall be retained in the official file of the student who is alleged to have violated the Code.

(i) When a complaint is dismissed, the Senior Associate Dean of Students shall inform the person filing the complaint, the accused, and the Dean of the decision in writing.

(b) Settlement. If the Senior Associate Dean of Students determines that there is probable cause to believe that a violation of the Code of Conduct has been committed, and that the alleged infraction is not de minimis, and that the complaint was filed within a reasonable time, the complaint may be disposed of on terms satisfactory to the Senior Associate Dean of Students and the accused. These terms may include either individually or in any combination:

- (1) Expulsion from the Kline School of Law;
- (2) Suspension from the Kline School of Law for a specific term of one year or less;
- (3) Assignment of a grade of “F” for any course, seminar, clinic, or Co-Op;
- (4) Withdrawal with prejudice from any course, seminar, clinic, or Co-Op;
- (5) Written reprimand;
- (6) Probation;
- (7) An oral or written admonition;
- (8) Any other conditions deemed appropriate.

If the complaint is resolved in this manner, the Senior Associate Dean of Students shall inform the Dean of the terms of the agreement and shall notify in writing the person filing the complaint of the fact that the complaint has been resolved.

If the student receives a failing grade in a first-year course due to a violation of the Code of Conduct, the student must retake the course. Since the student received a failing grade due to a violation of the Code of Conduct, both the failing grade and the grade from the retake will appear on the student’s transcript, but only the failing grade and not the grade from the retake will be factored into the student’s cumulative grade point average.

(c) Notice to Accused. Within a reasonable time from the filing of the complaint, the Senior Associate Dean of Students shall notify the accused in writing either (1) the complaint has been dismissed, or (2) that there is probable cause, the alleged infraction is not de minimis, the complaint was filed within a reasonable time, and the Senior Associate Dean of Students has determined that the matter cannot be settled. If the complaint is not dismissed or settled administratively, the Senior Associate Dean of Students shall furnish the accused with a copy of the complaint. The Senior Associate Dean of Students also shall forward a copy of the complaint to the Dean, who shall officially refer the matter to the Chair of the Faculty/Student Code of Conduct committee.

(d) Temporary Suspension. Nothing in these rules shall prohibit the Senior Associate Dean of Students from temporarily suspending a student pending adjudication of the charges, requiring a student to cease particular conduct or imposing a temporary suspension.

5. Faculty/Student Code of Conduct Committee. At the beginning of each academic year, the Dean shall appoint at least six full-time faculty members, one of whom will be designated as chair, to the Faculty/Student Code of Conduct committee. The Student Bar Association shall appoint six students to serve on this Committee. The members of the Committee will serve on Judicial Panels as needed.

6. Formation of a Judicial Panel. After referral of the matter by the Dean, the chair of the Faculty/Student Code of Conduct Committee shall appoint a hearing panel consisting of three faculty members from the Committee (one of whom will be designated chair) and two student members of the Committee. The Chair of the Judicial Panel shall insure that the members of the panel are impartial with respect to the matter and the accused. The University's Judicial Officer or his/her designated representative will serve ex officio on the hearing panel.

7. Appointment of a Presenter of Charges. At the time of the referral, the Dean shall appoint a full-time faculty member who is not a member of the Faculty/Student Code of Conduct Committee to serve as Presenter of Charges for the hearing. The Presenter of Charges shall transmit to the accused student the notice of the Dean's decision to refer the matter to a Judicial Panel, along with a copy of the Senior Associate Dean of Students' or designee's investigation report, if the accused has not yet been provided with these materials.

The Presenter of Charges shall be responsible for preparing and presenting the case to the Judicial Panel. The Presenter of Charges may also conduct additional interviews and gather information in connection with the preparation of the case before the Judicial Panel.

8. Accused Student's Representation and Costs. An accused student may be represented before the Judicial Panel by any person other than an employee of Drexel University. Neither Drexel University nor the Kline School of Law is liable for any costs or expenses, including attorney fees and costs, incurred by the accused student in connection with any allegations filed pursuant to the Code of Conduct.

9. Procedures for Judicial Hearing:

(a) Time and Place of Hearing. Upon formation of a Judicial Panel by the chair of the Faculty/Student Code of Conduct Committee, the chair of the Judicial Panel shall convene a meeting of the Panel and set a time and place for the hearing and shall transmit written notice of the hearing date to the accused student at least ten school days before the scheduled date. In this notice, the accused shall be given the identity of the members of the hearing panel.

(b) Challenge to Panel Members. The accused may challenge for cause any member of the Judicial Panel. The challenge shall be made in writing to the Dean no later than five school days prior to the hearing. The Dean, in his sole discretion, shall determine whether there is good cause to replace a member of the Judicial Panel who is so challenged.

(c) Pre-Hearing Conference. The chair of the Judicial Panel may require the accused student and/or the accused student's representative and the Presenter of Charges to attend a pre-hearing conference. At the conference, the chair of the Judicial Panel may require the disclosure of the general nature of the case by both parties, may order discovery if requested, and may require disclosure of any issues of law which the parties anticipate will require a ruling by the chair at the hearing.

(d) Record of Proceedings. The Judicial Panel shall insure that the hearing is tape-recorded, and the tape is maintained as a part of the permanent record of the matter.

(e) Procedure for Proceedings.

- (i) The Presenter of Charges and the accused student (or the accused student's representative) shall be allowed to make opening statements.
- (ii) The Presenter of Charges will then make the case against the accused student and may present evidence through documents and/or the testimony of witnesses.
- (iii) Testimony will be taken under a statement by a witness acknowledging compliance with the duty to tell the truth.
- (iv) The rules of evidence will not apply to the hearing. All non-cumulative evidence necessary to reach a fair resolution of the matter shall be admitted.
- (v) The accused student has the right to be present at the hearing and to present evidence, cross-examine witnesses, and to have witnesses attend and present testimony on the accused student's behalf.
- (vi) The Judicial Panel may also call witnesses to testify at the conclusion of the presentations by the Presenter of Charges and the accused student.
- (vii) The Chair of the Judicial Panel may rule on any procedural matter raised prior to or during the hearing. The chair's rulings on procedural and evidentiary matters are final.
- (viii) The Presenter of Charges and the accused student, or the accused student's representative, shall have the right to make a closing argument at the conclusion of all testimony.
- (ix) The hearing shall be closed to the public. Proceedings shall be confidential for all student members of the Judicial Panel. Violations of confidentiality shall constitute a violation of this Code and may be grounds for a complaint in accordance with the procedures set forth herein.
- (x) The Chair shall have the authority to require any person to leave the hearing if that person acts in a disruptive manner.

(f) Deliberation. After the close of the hearing, the Judicial Panel shall deliberate on the evidence presented. All decisions of the Judicial Panel shall be reached by simple majority vote.

(g) Decision of Judicial Panel. The Judicial Panel shall determine, with respect to each alleged violation, whether the charge or charges have been established by clear and convincing evidence. Such determination shall be made by the affirmative vote of a majority of the Panel. If such determination is not made, then the alleged violation shall be deemed not proved and the charge or charges shall be dismissed.

(h) Notice of Decision. As soon as the Panel has reached a decision with respect to whether the Code was violated and any sanctions to be imposed, the Chair shall notify, in writing, the accused and the Dean. The notice to the accused shall include a reminder of the accused's appellate rights as set forth in the Code in section (i) below.

(i) Review by the Dean. The student sanctioned may request within 10 school days of the notice of the decision that the Dean of the law school review the decision. Such a request must be in writing and set forth the reasons for the appeal; oral argument may be requested and is in the Dean's discretion to allow it. If such a request is made, the Dean shall review the report of the Panel and adopt it as the final disposition of the matter, unless he determines that the findings of fact of the Panel are not supported by substantial evidence on the whole record or that the recommended sanction is excessive, or both. The Dean shall have discretion to adopt the Panel's finding of fact but reject the Panel's recommended sanction, and may substitute such sanction as he finds to be justified by the record, provided that the Dean shall not adopt any sanction more stringent than that recommended by the Panel.

Sanctions for Violation of the Code of Conduct for Violations of Discrimination, or Harassment

Sanctions for Discrimination or Harassment will be determined and issued consistent with the University's Equality and Non-Discrimination Policy (OED-1). This policy can be found at <http://www.drexel.edu/oed/policies/>.

Sanctions for Violation of the Code of Conduct for Violations of Gender Discrimination or Sexual Harassment

Sanctions for Gender Discrimination or Sexual Harassment will be determined and issued consistent with the University's Sexual Harassment and Misconduct Policy (OED-3). This policy can be found at <http://www.drexel.edu/oed/policies/>.

Sanctions for Violation of the Code of Conduct for Violations other than Discrimination, Harassment, Gender Discrimination, or Sexual Harassment

Sanctions Available. The following sanctions for violation(s) of the Code of Conduct may be imposed by the Judicial Panel, either individually or in any combination:

- (a) Expulsion from the Kline School of Law;
- (b) Suspension from the Kline School of Law for a specific term of one year or less;
- (c) Assignment of a grade of “F” for any course, seminar, clinic, or co-op;
- (d) Withdrawal with prejudice from any course, seminar, clinic, or co-op;
- (e) Written reprimand;
- (f) Probation;
- (g) An oral or written admonition;
- (h) Any other conditions deemed appropriate.

If the student receives a failing grade in a first-year course due to a violation of the Code of Conduct, the student must retake the course. Since the student received a failing grade due to a violation of the Code of Conduct, both the failing grade and the grade from the retake will appear on the student’s transcript, but only the failing grade and not the grade from the retake will be factored into the student’s cumulative grade point average.

Permanent Record of Violation. If required by the Judicial Panel as a part of the sanctions levied against a student found in violation of the Code of Conduct, the University Registrar shall enter a notation on the official transcript of any student who is found to have violated the Code of Conduct. The entry shall include a summary of the nature of the violation as determined by the Judicial Panel and a summary of the sanctions imposed by the Judicial Panel. If a permanent record of the violation is made, the Dean shall report any such violation shown on a student’s transcript to any jurisdiction responsible for review of the character and fitness of the student for admission to the bar. The transcript notation cannot be expunged or removed.

Publication

The decisions of the Judicial Panel, redacted to protect the identity of the accused and other participants in the proceedings, shall be compiled and maintained by the Office of the Dean, and may be consulted by anyone in the Kline School of Law community. Recognizing that each case presents its unique factual circumstances, the Panel shall not be required to treat as binding precedent any of its prior reports or decisions.

COVID-19 ADDENDUM TO 2020-21 STUDENT HANDBOOK

The following behavioral policies are in place until such time as the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, City of Philadelphia, and Drexel University determine they are no longer necessary. Restrictions that are lifted may be reimposed subject to City, State, or University determination. Any violation of the restrictions or failure to comply with requirements will be treated as a potential violation under the Code of Conduct. Violations of the Code of Conduct are reported to Bar examiners as part of the character and fitness certification process.

Training and Testing Requirements

- A COVID-19 training is required for all students, which includes a Dragon Pledge to which all students must agree. This training is available in DrexelOne.
- A negative COVID-19 PCR test result is required prior to students, staff, and faculty returning to campus for the Fall Semester. Results must be received no earlier than 10 days prior to the initial arrival/return to campus. A link from Drexel University REDCap has been sent to all student Drexel email addresses to upload results. Students must upload test results, whether positive or negative. Students who receive positive test results: 1) are not permitted to come to campus in any capacity; and 2) must adhere to University, City and State guidelines and policies.
- All students coming to campus in any capacity must use the Drexel Health Tracker app, including reporting symptoms and following directives, each day prior to coming to campus. You can learn more about Drexel Health Tracker here. There is a web-based alternative to the Drexel Health Tracker App for anyone without access to a smartphone.

Personal Protective Equipment (PPE)

- Face masks covering the mouth and nose must be worn, without exceptions, by everyone while inside of any campus buildings, including the main Law Building at 3320 Market Street, the Kline Institute of Trial Advocacy at 1200 Chestnut Street, the Andy and Gwen Stern Community Lawyering Clinic located in Drexel's Dornsife Center for Neighborhood Partnerships, and the law school's dedicated classroom in the Papadakis Integrated Sciences Building (hereinafter, "the law school buildings"). This requirement extends to all students, staff, and faculty, and any visitors to the law school buildings. Cases of student non-compliance will be referred to the Senior Associate Dean of Students.
- Because masks must be worn at all times students will not be permitted to eat inside any of the law school buildings.
- The University will be providing one cloth mask to every employee and student.
- Per University rule, a face shield is not a substitute for a mask. However, in the event a student cannot wear a face mask for medical reasons, the student must seek a prior accommodation from the University Office of Disability Resources.

Social Distancing and Traffic Flow

- 3320 Market Street: when a front desk guard is present, the ADA-compliant door will be used solely for ingress, and the revolving door will be used solely for egress. Students will need to access the ADA-compliant door by scanning an active DragonCard on the card reader outside the building. Students without an active DragonCard will not be permitted in the building. When a guard is not at the front desk, the revolving door will be locked, and both ingress and egress will be through the ADA-compliant door. Students should not hold the door for others and should wait for others to pass to maintain social distancing at all times, with special emphasis on those times when the ADA-compliant door is in use for both ingress and egress.

- Kline Institute of Trial Advocacy: ingress will be through the Chestnut Street entrance and egress will be through the door exiting onto 12th Street. Students will need to access the building by scanning an active DragonCard on the card reader at the front desk by the Chestnut Street door. Students without an active DragonCard will not be permitted in the building.
- The Andy and Gwen Stern Community Lawyering Clinic located in the Dornsife Center for Neighborhood Partnerships: ingress and egress will be through the front entrance. Students will need to access the building by scanning an active DragonCard on the card reader at the front desk. Students without an active DragonCard will not be permitted in the building.
- The law school's dedicated classroom in the Papadakis Integrated Sciences Building: ingress and egress will be through the front or side doors. Students will need to access the building by scanning an active DragonCard on the card reader by the doors. Students without an active DragonCard will not be permitted in the building.
- Social distancing of at least six feet must always be observed in the law school buildings. To support these efforts, several measures have been put into place, which include:
 - Room capacities in the buildings and the Legal Research Center have been significantly reduced, and capacities will be posted at classroom and conference room entrances.
 - Elevator capacity will be restricted to no more than 2 passengers at a time, and floor markers have been placed to indicate where passengers must stand to maintain social distancing while in the elevators.
 - Suggested restroom capacity is limited to 2 occupants at a time.
 - Traffic flow in 3320 Market Street on each floor will be one directional – clockwise – with arrows marking the appropriate direction.
 - Staircases in 3320 Market Street will be single directional on all floors. The stairs near the elevator banks will be used to go up, and the back hallway stairs will be used to go down.
 - The amount of furniture in classrooms and common areas will be reduced, and remaining seating will be positioned to support appropriate distancing.
 - The vast majority of faculty and staff offices will have a capacity limit of 2 people (occupant + 1 visitor), spaced at least 6 feet apart while in the office space.
 - Study spaces for students will also be significantly reduced in capacity, and be available by reservation only. Instructions on how to reserve spaces will be sent to students.
 - Traffic flow in the Kline Institute of Trial Advocacy will be one directional in certain locations – with arrows marking the appropriate direction.

Health and Safety

- The kitchens in the law school buildings will be closed for use – this includes use of the microwave and refrigerator, eating at the tables, or otherwise congregating in the space.
- Water fountains will remain operational for purposes of water bottle refill only; no one may drink directly from the fountain.

Honor Code for Exams and Major Assignments

The special student Honor Code for exams and major assignments that was implemented for the spring and summer semesters will continue to apply for the fall semester. The Honor Code states:

1. I understand and accept that I have an affirmative duty to report in writing to the Senior Associate Dean of Students any student, including myself, who I credibly believe cheated or sought to cheat on any exam/paper/assignment, and to fully cooperate in any investigation regarding allegations of cheating or violations of this pledge;
2. In preparing this exam answer/paper/assignment I will comply with the conditions set forth by the course professor including not seeking to or communicating or collaborating with anyone not specifically authorized by the course professor;
3. I did not and will not seek out, receive, or share any unauthorized information regarding the nature or content of the question(s) in this exam/paper/assignment or my own answer(s) or work to or from anyone, unless specifically authorized by the course professor;
4. I will not disclose, directly or indirectly, any matter concerning the exam/paper/assignment questions or my own answer(s) or work to anyone, unless specifically authorized by the course professor;
5. I will delete or destroy any electronic or other copy of the exam/paper/assignment question immediately upon submitting the exam answer/paper/assignment;
6. I understand that in addition to the terms of this pledge, I remain bound by the Thomas R. Kline School of Law Code of Conduct and the Drexel University Code of Conduct.

Type or paste the following as the first line of your exam to affirm:

“I affirm that I will abide by, and that this exam answer comports with, the terms of the Honor Code Statement.”
