1. Change of Curriculum and Status form from the Office of Graduate Studies.
<http://www.drexel.edu/graduatestudies/forms-policies/forms/> list current and requested majors in section C only.
2. Statement. During their entire time in Drexel's MS in Public Policy, students are engaged in a single research project – what we call a “case study” – on a specific policy-related program or organization of their choosing. Though you are not expected to have chosen a specific case study topic prior to your entry into the program, it helps to at least have some thoughts about the general policy areas and issues in which you are interested. Please write a short essay to discuss potential policy areas or issues in which you might like to write your case study. In addition, please discuss how your background, experience, interest, and/or values, when combined with a Drexel degree, will enable you to pursue these goals successfully.
