Description: The donor is the sister of Diana Lewis Batron Rodgers, who graduated from the nursing program at Woman's Medical College of Pennsylvania, c. 1912. The donor states that the photos are from her sister's "Tour of Duty".

Additional Comments: These photographs were found in a file cabinet containing items from the office of a previous director of the Archives. An acknowledgment letter and Deed of Gift had been sent, the Deed of Gift signed and returned, and an accession number assigned, but there was no accession record or finding aid created for these items. And so, this accession record has been created in October of 1997, even though the gift was donated in 1995.
