

MCP Hahnemann University
Archives and Special Collections on Women in Medicine
Transfer Record

Accession #: 2000.42.1-11

Date: November 8, 2000

Source: Archives

Object: photographs made for an exhibit:

- .1: "A Travelling Dispensary", Missionary Medical College for Women, Vellore, India, c. 1948
- .2: title page of Modern Woman and Sex: A Feminist Physician Speaks by Rachelle S. Yarros, M.D., 1933
- .3: Rachelle S. Yarros, M.D, 1941
- .4: drawing of Hull House (Chicago) from Twenty Years of Hull House, p. 197, 1910
- .5: graphs showing patient responses to Tryparsamide (used in treating sleeping sickness, pioneered by Louise Pearce), from Journal of Experimental Medicine, 1921, p. 41
- .6: first meeting minutes of the Medical Women's National Association (later AMWA), 1915
- .7: quotes from the inaugural speech of Nancy Dickey, AMA president
- .8: Nancy Dickey, M.D. with infant patient, c. 1998, from Texas Life, copyright Southern Life, Inc.
- .9: clipping: advertisement for a lecture by Hannah Longshore-Potts, M.D., n.d.
- .10: Bertha Van Hoosen, M.D. demonstrating a ceasarian section, 1940, from Time, November 4, 1940, photo by Max F. Kolin
- .11: Bertha Van Hoosen, M.D. demonstrating a ceasarian section (cutting umbilical cord), 1940, from Time, November 4, 1940, photo by Max F. Kolin

Date: [1910-98]

Notes: These photographs were made from items on the Archives collections and other sources for an exhibit created by the Foundation for the History of Women in Medicine in 2000. Negatives are available