

Alumni Volunteer Judges Needed

Discovery Day, the College of Medicine's annual day of research, will be held on Thursday, October 20, 2016 at the Pennsylvania Convention Center. Alumni available between 8 a.m. to 12 p.m. are invited to judge and will review and provide feedback on student poster presentations. If you are interested and would like details, email medical.alumni@drexel.edu. Thank you!

Alumni Spotlight

Meet Ryan Stancil, MD, CoM '12 who is currently a diving medical officer and lieutenant in the U.S. Navy. He explains, "The College of Medicine gave me the medical knowledge, clinical skills and confidence in my abilities to take care of the Navy's submariners and divers." Read his story.

Exploring Influences of Chronic Pain

Researchers at Drexel University College of Medicine are aiming to identify new molecular mechanisms involved in pain. Their latest study shows how one protein can regulate the expression of a large number of genes that modulate pain. Learn more.

FEATURED EVENTS

Drexel University Neurosciences Alumni Reception

Join us for a Drexel University alumni event in San Diego, California, on Sunday, November 13, 2016. Our networking reception will also coincide with the Society for Neuroscience Annual Meeting.

More details to follow. Save the date.

College of Medicine Alumni Weekend 2017

Calling all Classes ending in 2 or 7, and our Grand Classes who graduated more than 50 years ago! Your reunion will take place in May 2017.

Thursday, May 18, 2017
 Classes of 1967 Dinner

Friday and Saturday, May 19 and 20, 2017
 Alumni Weekend for all Reunion Classes and Grand Classes

More details to follow. Save the dates!

