

Introducing the 4D Janssen-Drexel fellowship program

Diversity in Drug Discovery and Development fellowship:

A joint effort between Janssen Oncology and Drexel's Department of Pharmacology and Physiology providing full support to underrepresented minority students enrolled in Drexel graduate programs as they complete coursework, conduct research, and prepare for a career in drug discovery and development. The fellowship Program will offer tuition coverage and a stipend for living expenses. Fellows will have the opportunity to conduct research at Janssen.

Please contact Dr. Alessandro Fatatis (af39@drexel.edu), chair of the selection and steering committee, to apply. Applicants must be accepted into a Drexel graduate program to be considered for this fellowship.

Now accepting applications for Fall 2021!
