

Discovery Day is an annual conference at Drexel University College of Medicine that fosters innovation and collaboration in medical research.

The event allows future physicians and scientists to share discoveries, engage in discussions, and connect with faculty, industry experts, and peers, showcasing excellence in medicine and biomedical sciences.

Your Support Makes a Difference

By sponsoring Discovery Day 2026, you help students and trainees pursue transformative research that advances medical science, innovation and patient care.

Your contributions directly impact the success of our young researchers and the future of healthcare.
