Section 1: Definitions and Purpose of the Drexel University College of Medicine

The Drexel University College of Medicine is devoted to the pursuit and dissemination of knowledge in the medical and biomedical sciences through programs of education, research, health care, and service to the public.

Throughout these Faculty Bylaws, the term "College" shall refer to the Drexel University College of Medicine. The term "University" shall refer to Drexel University.

Section 2: Office of the Dean

The College shall be administered by the Dean, who also holds the title of Senior Vice President for Medical Affairs, who shall be the principal academic leader of the College and shall enforce the policies of the College. The Dean, shall serve at the pleasure of the President of the University

The Dean shall be responsible for execution of all directives and policies of the University that pertain to the College and shall supervise the conduct of all academic and other affairs of the College. The Dean's supervision of the conduct of the academic programs of the College shall extend to activities of the Faculty of the College in all areas of the University, regardless of location.

The Dean, or the Dean's designee, shall convene all meetings of the Faculty of the College. The Dean shall be an ex-officio member of all standing committees of the College but may designate a member of the Dean's staff or the Faculty to attend any such committee meetings on their behalf.

The Dean shall recommend to the President and to the Provost such policies or actions as the Dean may deem desirable for the proper conduct and development of the College and its programs.

The Dean may appoint Vice, Associate and Assistant Deans of the College who shall serve at the pleasure of the Dean and shall assist the Dean in their conduct of the affairs of the College with such duties as the Dean, may from time to time prescribe. The Dean may appoint any Vice, Associate, Assistant Dean or Department Chair to act in the Dean's absence.

The Dean shall prepare an annual budget for the consideration of the Drexel University Board of Trustees and shall be responsible for preparing an Annual Report on the status of the College for submission to the Drexel University Board of Trustees.

When a vacancy occurs in the Office of the Dean, the Provost or President shall designate an acting or interim Dean and shall appoint a Search Committee, which shall include Faculty members, to search for and evaluate candidates for the position. The Search Committee shall present its recommendations to the President for consideration and transmission to the Drexel University Board of Trustees.

Section 3: Faculty

The Faculty of the College is composed of the Dean of the College and all individuals holding Faculty titles as described in Article II. Throughout these Faculty Bylaws, the term "Faculty" shall refer to the Faculty of the College.

Section 4: Responsibilities

The College shall be responsible for developing and administering educational and training programs for individuals seeking the degree of Doctor of Medicine, Doctor of Philosophy, or Masters, graduate medical education programs and other such degrees and educational programs as the Drexel University Board of Trustees have previously authorized or may authorize in the future.

In general, the Faculty has primary responsibility for matters most directly related to the educational process: admission standards, curriculum, degree requirements, grading standards, and standards for student conduct. In addition, the Faculty shares a major responsibility for matters related to Faculty status: Faculty appointments, reappointments, promotions, and matters related to the attainment and maintenance of professional competence and excellence.

Section 5: Meetings of the Faculty of the College

The purposes and functions of the Faculty meetings shall be:

- (1) To provide an opportunity for the Faculty as a whole to initiate and carry on a discussion of policy and through effective representation to advise administrative officers on matters significant to the academic programs of the College.
- (2) To inform the Faculty of pertinent activities of the College, Faculty committees, and administrative officers.
- (3) To vote on all Faculty bylaw changes in accordance with Article IX.
- (4) To elect an Advisory Council on Committees which will assist the Dean in selecting members of the standing Faculty Committees.
- (5) To elect Faculty representatives to the Drexel University Faculty Senate under such procedures and in such numbers as the Bylaws of Faculty Governance of Drexel University shall from time to time permit.
- (6) To consider the actions of the Executive Committee of the Faculty as reported to the Faculty by the Secretary of the Committee. Any recommendations for policy by the Executive Committee of the Faculty which are disapproved by Faculty vote will be referred back to the Executive Committee of the Faculty. If, on reconsideration, agreement cannot be reached between the Executive Committee of the Faculty and the Faculty, the matter will be referred to the President of the University for further arbitration and discussion. It is expected that the President will seek information and counsel from whatever source they deem appropriate (Faculty, Drexel University Board of Trustees, administration, consultants, etc.) to affect a solution which in their judgment is in the best interest of this institution.
- (7) To consider any other matters referred to by the Dean or Steering Committee.

Faculty meetings shall be held at least two times each year, as scheduled by the Dean at the beginning of each academic year. Written notice shall be sent to all members of the Faculty by the Dean at least ten days prior to each meeting.

Special Faculty meetings may be called by the Dean on their own accord or within ten days of receipt of a written request from the Executive Committee of the Faculty, the Steering Committee of the Faculty, or from at least 15 voting members of the Faculty.

All members of the Faculty are eligible to attend meetings of the Faculty of the College. Faculty with the rank of Instructor (Clinical Instructor, Research Instructor) or higher, other than those holding the Adjunct, Temporary or Emeritus Faculty title, are eligible to vote. Temporary Faculty may be granted the right to vote, with appropriate approvals (as outlined in Article II, Section 7).

Faculty members are expected to attend meetings of the Faculty of the College. Except for resolutions introduced at meetings of the Faculty, electronic ballots may be used by voting members of the Faculty who cannot attend a Faculty meeting due to special circumstances. Such ballots shall be made available at least ten business days prior to the meeting and must be received by the office of the Dean or their designee no later than the date of the meeting.

The Dean shall convene all meetings of the Faculty. In the absence of the Dean, their designate, a Vice Dean, Associate Dean or Assistant Dean shall convene meetings of the Faculty. The Chair of the Steering Committee of the Faculty shall Chair the meetings of the Faculty.

No resolution shall be passed without a minimum of 50 Faculty votes including those submitted electronically.

ARTICLE II - FACULTY APPOINTMENTS

Section 1: General Statement of Appointment

The College has multiple goals and obligations that encompass teaching, research, patient care, and community service as detailed in the mission statement of the College. Individual Faculty members shall be responsible for one or more of these obligations. The conditions, including title, term, and compensation, of every Faculty appointment shall be stated precisely in writing and be in the possession of both the College and the Faculty member.

All members of the Faculty are entitled to academic freedom. Faculty members are entitled to freedom in research and the publication of the results subject to the applicable College policies and regulations.

Faculty members are members of a learned profession, and responsible members of an educational institution. When they speak or write, they should be free from censorship or discipline by the College, but they should at all times be accurate, should exercise appropriate restraint, should respect the opinions of others, and should indicate that they are not spokespersons for the College.

Unless approved otherwise by the Dean, Faculty appointments are made in a Department of the College.

Section 2: Faculty Ranks

This Article contains the definitions used by the College for the various Faculty ranks. Specific procedures for Faculty appointments and promotions to each of these ranks shall follow the guidelines stated in these Faculty Bylaws, as interpreted and amplified by the Faculty Appointments and Promotions Committee of the College.

(1) Professor

The rank of Professor shall be held by a Faculty member who has a doctoral degree and has demonstrated outstanding teaching, research, and/or clinical ability and is recognized as outstanding in their field. Such characteristics usually include membership in appropriate national professional societies and certification by the appropriate specialty board, if such membership or certification is appropriate to their function in the Department.

(2) Associate Professor

The rank of Associate Professor shall be held by an individual with such qualifications as indicate potential for appointment as a Professor. Such qualifications would ordinarily include certification by the appropriate specialty board, extensive and varied experience in their field, recognition as an outstanding teacher, researcher, and/or clinician, and membership in appropriate national professional societies, if such membership or certification is appropriate to their function in the Department.

(3) Assistant Professor

The rank of Assistant Professor shall be held by an individual who holds a doctoral degree or a master's degree in fields in which that is the highest degree offered at the time of one's education. Qualifications should ordinarily include acceptable post-doctoral experience in research or teaching and certification by specialty board, if such certification is appropriate to their function in the Department. An exception to the requirement for board certification for the rank of assistant professor may be made in disciplines that require an extended period of time to achieve board certification that includes a clinical practice requirement. In such cases, these individuals will be required to show evidence of board certification within 5 years of the initial appointment or lose their Faculty appointment.

(4) Instructor

The rank of Instructor shall be held by an individual with a master's degree or a doctoral degree. This title may indicate the initial step in an academic career. Post-doctoral teaching and research experience are not necessarily required. Normally, individuals pursuing residency training will not receive an academic title. Chief Residents and Fellows are eligible to be considered for the title of Instructor.

(5) Lecturer

The rank of Lecturer shall be held by an individual who teaches a course or part of a course. Appointment to this rank will be under highly selective conditions.

(6) Exceptions

Exceptions to the qualifications listed above may be made for individuals who have demonstrated the ability to perform as a teacher, scientist, or clinician at a level equivalent to that defined in the respective Faculty ranks. An example of such an exception is an individual who lacks a doctoral degree.

Section 3: Categories for Faculty Titles

There are ten categories of Faculty titles: unqualified, clinical prefixed, clinical suffixed, research, emeritus, temporary, visiting, clinical adjunct, senior adjunct and adjunct. The standards for appointment at each rank and category are articulated in relevant policies of the Appointments and Promotion Committee.

(1) Unqualified Title (Examples: Associate Professor of Emergency Medicine, Professor of Emergency Medicine)

The unqualified title carries no qualifying descriptive adjective and shall be held by Faculty with major responsibility for College programs, including teaching, research, administration, or clinical activity. Faculty with unqualified titles may not hold an unqualified title at any other institution except under special circumstances with the recommendation of the chair and the consent of the dean. For at-large Faculty members (see Section 5, below), the recommendation would come from their designated Supervisor (in the appointment letter), and also requires the approval of the dean.

Faculty with unqualified titles may hold qualified titles at other institutions upon the recommendation of the Department Chair, or the designated Supervisor (for at-large Faculty).

(2) Qualified Titles

- (a) Clinical Prefixed. A clinical prefixed title identifies those Faculty who contribute to the clinical programs (teaching or other clinical functions) of the College and who may or may not devote their professional effort exclusively to the College programs. (Examples: Clinical Associate Professor of Emergency Medicine, Clinical Professor of Emergency Medicine)
- (b) Clinical Suffixed. A clinical suffixed title identifies those Faculty who contribute to the clinical programs (teaching or other clinical functions) of the College, who have significant institutional service, educational involvement and are a recognized expert in their field at a local or regional level. (Examples: Associate Professor of Clinical Emergency Medicine, Professor of Clinical Emergency Medicine)
- (c) Research. The research title identifies Faculty members who are primarily employed for specified research or demonstration projects of limited duration. (Examples: Research Associate Professor of Emergency Medicine, Research Professor of Emergency Medicine)
- (d) Clinical Adjunct. The Clinical Adjunct title is reserved for those members of the Faculty who contribute to the academic programs of the College on an occasional, but continuing basis. A Clinical Adjunct should teach 1-2 learners per clinical rotation for at least 1-2 rotations per year. Persons may serve in the Adjunct Faculty without limit of time through successive reappointments. (Examples: Clinical Adjunct of Emergency Medicine)
- (e) Senior Adjunct. A clinical adjunct may be eligible for a senior adjunct title after 7 or more years of service as noted above. This title may also be appropriate for an individual with a long career in academic medicine or a known expert in a field who will be participating in our programs on an occasional, but continuing basis (Examples: Senior Adjunct of Emergency Medicine)
- (f) Emeritus. The title of Professor Emerita or Emeritus or Associate Professor Emerita or Emeritus may be conferred upon a retiring member of the Faculty who has given long, meritorious, and distinguished service to the College.
- (g) Temporary. A temporary title identifies those who have been appointed to the Faculty by the Dean in accordance with Section 7 of this Article.
- (h) Visiting Faculty. The title of Visiting Faculty member is conferred upon individuals who are temporarily appointed by the College but have continuing academic appointments in other institutions of higher education or continuing associations with business or non-profit organizations or governmental agencies. A visiting faculty member is a full-time member of the College while on leave from another institution with which he or she has a continuing affiliation. Academic ranks are normally conferred at the rank commensurate with the candidate's position at the academic institution at which he or she holds a continuing appointment or with his or her scientific, educational, or service experience and achievement at a non-academic organization or agency. Visiting Faculty members shall not have voting privileges in the General Faculty meetings or in any of the Standing Committees of the Faculty.

(3) Adjunct Title

- (a) Adjunct. The Adjunct title is reserved for those members of the Faculty who contribute to the academic programs of the College and who hold primary faculty appointments at another organization. The adjunct title should mirror the title at the primary institution.

(4) Secondary/Joint Appointments

A Faculty member may hold title in more than one Department in the College and/or in the College and at Drexel University, in which instance the title category and rank in each Department and/or at Drexel University should be appropriate to the activity and responsibility of that member.

Section 4: Procedure for Consideration for Appointments and Promotions

The standards and procedures generally employed in decisions affecting appointment and promotion shall be determined within the College. Each Faculty member will be advised, at the time of initial appointment or promptly upon their adoption, of these standards and procedures. In general, these standards will include a candidate's ethical character, integrity, collegiality and the quality of their educational activities, original contributions in a scholarly field, service to the institution, the community and, if applicable, patient care. Any special standards adopted by the Faculty member's Department, Department Chair, designated Supervisor (for at-large Faculty), or the College will also be transmitted.

All nominations for Faculty appointments or promotion will originate with the Chair of the Department in which appointment or promotion is sought or with the Dean when Department Chairs are being considered. In the case of at-large Faculty the nomination will originate with the designated Supervisor named in the appointment letter. The Department Chair or Supervisor shall submit nominations to the Dean, who shall refer the nomination for consideration by the Appointments and Promotions Committee of the College.

The Appointments and Promotions Committee of the College will review the nomination and will forward same, with its recommendation, to the Executive Committee. The Executive Committee will review the recommendation of the Appointments and Promotion Committee and will forward same, with its recommendation to the Dean. The Dean may accept, reject, or modify a recommendation. The appointment or promotion shall become effective with the approval of the Dean.

At the completion of each level of review (Department Chair or Supervisor, the Appointments and Promotions Committee of the College, Executive Committee and the Dean), the recommendation for or against the granting of appointment or promotion will be made to the next higher level. If a recommendation against the granting of appointment or promotion is made at any level, the Department Chair or at-large Faculty Supervisor will be notified and provided with a list of reasons why the decision was made. That individual will review the list of reasons with the Faculty member who shall have the opportunity along with the Chair or Supervisor, to appeal the decision to the committee that made the negative recommendation. If the initial negative decision is not reversed, the Faculty member shall have the option to either accept the decision or to permit the negative recommendation to be forwarded to the next higher level, except that a decision by the Dean to deny an appointment or promotion shall be final and not subject to further appeal.

If the Department Chair or at-large Faculty Supervisor is unwilling to recommend promotion, the Faculty member may, in writing, request special evaluation by the Appointments and Promotions Committee. The recommendation of this Committee will be forwarded to the Executive Committee.

If an eligible Faculty member fails to obtain promotion, they may be reconsidered no sooner than after one year, consistent with the Faculty Bylaws and the policies and procedures of the College, provided that additional evidence in support of their case is submitted by the Department Chair or the designated Supervisor (at-large Faculty).

Section 5: At-Large Faculty Appointments

Faculty whose area of expertise does not belong in a discipline-specific department may be appointed by the Dean as "at-large" in the College of Medicine. The individual responsible for supervision and management of an "at-large" Faculty member, including all decisions related to appointment, reappointment, and promotion will be designated in the Faculty member's appointment letter. The initial appointment will be handled by this individual, referred to as the Supervisor, in the manner described in Section 4.

Section 6: Tenure

The Drexel University Board of Trustees and the Faculty acknowledge and affirm the role of tenure in promoting academic freedom and a robust academic environment. The definition of tenure, standards and procedures for granting tenured status and a statement of rights and obligations of tenured Faculty, taking into account the financial and administrative exigencies of the College and the current and future role of Drexel University in the operation of the College are the responsibility of the Drexel University Board of Trustees and are articulated in relevant policies and procedures which are posted on the Faculty Affairs website.

Section 7: Temporary Appointments

- (1) Upon request of the Department Chair, or at-large Faculty designated supervisor and prior to consideration by the Appointments and Promotions Committee, the Dean may provide a temporary Faculty appointment in order to permit the proposed Faculty member to function within the institution and to receive appropriate remuneration.
- (2) Such temporary appointments shall have the following restrictions:
 - (a) The appointee shall be given the qualified title of "Temporary".
 - (b) The term of the temporary appointment shall not ordinarily exceed one (1) year.
 - (c) A temporary appointee shall not vote, hold office, or serve on Committees of the Faculty. The Dean may grant exceptions to this rule in appropriate circumstances.

Section 8: Term of Appointment

(1) Initial Faculty Appointments

The initial term of the faculty appointment shall be as set forth in the faculty member's initial appointment letter.

(2) Renewal of Faculty Appointments

For Faculty members without tenure, appointments may be renewed as stated in the faculty member's initial appointment letter. Unless approved otherwise by the Dean, the term of a renewal will usually be for three years. These bylaws do not limit the number of times a faculty member's appointment may be renewed.

(3) Notice of Resignation by Faculty Members

Members of the Faculty agree that they shall not resign or in any other manner terminate their services until they have given the College written notice at least one hundred and eighty days (180) days in advance, so that the College has a reasonable opportunity to appoint proper replacements.

(4) Notice of Termination Without Cause by College

(a) For non-tenured Faculty members in clinical departments:

- i. During the first year of service by giving written notice at least three months (90 days) in advance of the effective date of termination.
- ii. During and after the second year of service, by giving written notice at least six months (180 days) in advance of the effective date of termination.

(b) For non-tenured Faculty members in basic science departments:

- i. During the first year of service by giving written notice at least three months (90 days) in advance of the effective date of termination.
- ii. During the second year of service, by giving written notice at least six months (180 days) in advance of the effective date of termination.
- iii. After two or more years of service in the institution, by giving written notice with an effective date of termination at least twelve months (365 days) after the date of the written notice.

In calculating years of service, only years of service as a full-time Faculty member are considered. A non-tenured Faculty member who is given notice of termination may request from the Department Chair or designated Supervisor (at-large Faculty) a notice of reasons. This notice of reasons, if requested, must be written. A Faculty member who is dissatisfied with the notice of reasons, must appeal to the College Mediation and Grievance Panel within thirty (30) days from receipt of this notice of reasons.

Section 9: Dismissal for Cause

Members of the Faculty may be dismissed before the expiration of their term of appointment only for reasons of adequate cause. Adequate cause for dismissal includes, but is not limited to, the following:

- (1) Demonstrated incompetency in teaching, research, patient care or service.
- (2) Demonstrated dishonesty or misconduct in teaching, research or patient care or service, including dishonesty in billing or documentation.
- (3) Substantial and manifest neglect of duty.
- (4) Personal conduct that substantially impairs the individual's fulfillment of his or her institutional responsibilities or which violates College policies and procedures.
- (5) Noncompliance with the Faculty Bylaws of the College
- (6) Conviction of a felony.

A Faculty member's compensated employment with the College may be terminated if the Faculty member ceases to be insurable under the College's professional liability insurance program and such insurance is required as a condition of employment. However, the Faculty member will retain an uncompensated Faculty appointment of the same rank and title if his or her employment is terminated solely for this reason.

Action for dismissal for cause shall be initiated by the appropriate Department Chair. Prior to the initiation of an action for dismissal, the Faculty member will be provided with written notice of the grounds for dismissal and an opportunity to meet with the Department Chair. If the Faculty member attends such a meeting, the Faculty member will be provided an explanation of the grounds for dismissal and an opportunity to respond. If the matter is not resolved and the Chair believes that adequate cause to dismiss exists, the Chair shall recommend such action to the Dean in writing with an explanation of the reasons for such recommendation. The Dean will notify the Faculty member that a recommendation of dismissal for cause has been received. The Dean will review the grounds for dismissal and any relevant evidence offered in support or response. Should the Dean find that adequate cause exists for dismissal; the Dean shall terminate that Faculty Member's appointment. The Faculty member may appeal the Dean's decision to the Mediation and Grievance Panel. If the Dean has reason to believe that harm to the College, its Faculty, employees, students or patients will occur or be threatened by the Faculty member's continued active status, the Dean, may suspend the Faculty member, with or without pay, until the dismissal process, including any appeals, has been concluded.

Section 10: Dismissal Due to Financial Exigency

A tenured or non-tenured Faculty appointment may be terminated before the expiration of its term for demonstrated financial exigency as determined by the Drexel University Board of Trustees in its sole discretion. In such cases, all terminations on these grounds must be approved by the Drexel University Board of Trustees after consideration by appropriate Faculty governing bodies in accordance with the procedures provided for in these Faculty Bylaws.

Section 11: Discontinuance of Program or Department Not Mandated by Financial Exigency

Termination of a non-tenured Faculty appointment may occur as a result of bona fide formal discontinuance of a program or Department. Termination of a tenured Faculty appointment may occur as a result of a bona fide formal discontinuance of the Department (but not a program) in which the tenured Faculty member holds his or her primary appointment. The following standards and procedures will apply:

- (1) The decision to discontinue formally a Department will be based upon consideration of the criteria specified in Article V, Section 4 of these Bylaws. The decision to discontinue formally a program will be made by the Dean.
- (2) Before the administration issues notice to a Faculty member of its intention to terminate an appointment because of formal discontinuance of a program or Department, the institution will make every reasonable effort to place the Faculty member concerned in another suitable position within the College. If placement in another position would be facilitated by a reasonable period of training, financial and other support for such training will be proffered. If no position is available within the College, with or without retraining, the Faculty member's appointment then may be terminated, but only with provision for severance salary equivalent to the amount of advance notice required under Section 8(4) of this Article given the Faculty member's length of service with the College.
- (3) A Faculty member may appeal a proposed relocation or termination resulting from discontinuance to the College Mediation and Grievance Panel by filing such grievance within thirty (30) days from the notice of termination.
- (4) A program subject to discontinuance in the understanding of this Section shall consist of a group of Faculty members working in an intellectually related domain of study or practice. A program subject to discontinuance will not consist of a single individual.

ARTICLE III - THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE OF THE FACULTY

Section 1: Purpose

The purposes of the Executive Committee of the Faculty are:

- (1) To consider and develop policy concerned with the academic programs of the College and to recommend to the Dean methods for implementing these policies.
- (2) To advise the Dean on other matters of concern to the College.

Section 2: Membership

- (1) The Executive Committee of the Faculty shall be composed of the following voting members:

- The Dean of the College
 - The Chair or Acting Chair of each academic Department at the College
 - Directors of Institutes recognized under Article VI
 - Eight (8) representatives from the Steering Committee of the Faculty of the College
 - Six (6) Faculty Senate Senators as representatives of the College of Medicine
- (2) Chairs of the Standing Committees of the Faculty shall be non-voting members of the Executive Committee.
- (3) If a Department Chair or acting Chair is unable to attend a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Faculty, they may delegate such responsibility to a senior member of the Department. If a representative from the Steering Committee of the Faculty is unable to attend, they may delegate one of the elected alternates to attend in their place. The Committee Chair must be notified prior to a scheduled meeting if an alternate is to represent a regular member of the Committee.
- (4) A quorum shall consist of at least one half of the voting members of the Executive Committee.

Section 3: Officers

There shall be a Chair, a Vice Chair, and a Secretary. The Dean shall be the permanent Chair. The Vice Chair shall be elected by the Committee from the Chairs of the academic Departments and the Secretary shall be elected by the Committee from the representatives of the Steering Committee of the Faculty at the first meeting of the academic year.

- (1) The duties of the Chair shall be to preside at all meetings of the Committee and to report University matters to the Faculty.
- (2) The duties of the Vice Chair shall be:
- (a) To assume the duties of the Chair in their absence.
- (3) The duties of the Secretary shall be:
- (a) To keep a record of the minutes of the meetings.
 - (b) To send out notices of meetings.
 - (c) To report the Committee's actions to the Faculty.

Section 4: Vote

Each voting member (as defined in Section 2(1) above) is entitled to one vote. Staff members, attending on invitation of the Dean, shall have no vote.

Unless a voting member objects, the Executive Committee of the Faculty may also take action without a meeting of the Committee by voting electronically via e-mail or by some other written method authorized by the Dean. To be decided in this manner, the action must receive an affirmative vote from a majority of the members of that Committee with the right to vote. Committee members must be given at least ten (10) business days to discuss, vote on or object to any action being taken without a meeting.

Normally such electronic voting by the Executive Committee of the Faculty will occur after a discussion of the topic at a regular meeting, at which a final decision was not reached. The Dean, at his or her discretion, may also hold such an electronic vote between meetings without prior discussion by the Committee.

Section 5: Function of the Committee

In the conduct of business, the Executive Committee should:

- (1) Act on Faculty appointments and promotions.
- (2) Serve as a forum for the discussion of policy matters referred by the Dean, by members of the Committees or by individual members of the Faculty and formulate recommendations for policy. These should be referred to the Dean for executive action.
- (3) Receive and act upon reports from standing Committees of the College as defined in Article VIII.
- (4) Table until the next meeting any question of academic policy in which there is disagreement between a majority vote of the Executive Committee of the Faculty and the Dean. If, on reconsideration, agreement between the Dean and a majority of the Executive Committee of the Faculty is not reached, the matter shall be referred to the President who will attempt to mediate. Any decision to create a new academic Department should be the result of a conscious decision that creation of a new Department will enhance management of the education, research, clinical services and community service of the College for the benefit of the Faculty, students, and patients. Creation of a new academic Department is a decision that requires approval by the Provost, President, based on their determination that the new Department will meet the needs and further the mission of the College, and provide a distinct service. As appropriate the proposed department will have a commitment to research.

- (1) Criteria for Departmental Status. To qualify for Departmental status, a petitioning division or other group generally must demonstrate:
- (a) That there is an academic and operational benefit to establishing the proposed Department.
 - (b) That the nature and practice of the medical specialty or basic science requires an expertise beyond the competence of other disciplines, including those for which primary Board Certification may be necessary.
 - (c) That the discipline represented by the proposed Department is recognized by generally accepted criteria, such as credentialing by the American Board of Medical Specialties, the existence of a national organization of Chairs of the discipline, membership in the Council of Academic Societies, and recognition as a Department by a significant number of U.S. medical schools.
 - (d) That the proposed Department will consist of a critical mass of qualified full-time Faculty as well as volunteer Faculty where appropriate.

evidenced by publications, by presentations at national meetings, by success in obtaining external funding for research, and by participation of Faculty members as principal or co-principal investigators; each proposed Department shall demonstrate a commitment to pursue research at a level that will permit the Department, within a reasonable time, to compare favorably with nationally recognized Departments in the discipline.

Section 4: Dissolution or Merger of Academic Departments

- (a) The Department no longer plays an appropriate or independent role in the larger mission of the College, including a commitment to medical education and research as outlined in the criteria for creation of a new academic department as stipulated in Section 3; or
 - (b) The discipline of the Department is no longer recognized by generally accepted criteria, such as credentialing by the American Board of Medical Specialties, the existence of a national organization of chairs, and/or recognition as a department by a significant number of U.S. medical schools. Furthermore, in the case of a proposed merger, the newly merged set of disciplines must meet the criteria of a new academic department as stipulated in Section 3.

(2) Procedure of dissolution or merger of departments.

- (a) The process will be initiated by the Dean. This may be requested by the Faculty of the affected Department(s).
- (b) The Dean shall appoint a committee to review the performance of the Department(s) constituted as follows:
 - One member from the affected Department(s);

This review shall include a determination that the Department continues to adhere to the criteria for Departmental status, as set forth in Section 3 of this Article.
