Chuck Haas to receive Clarke Award

The National Water Research Institute (NWRI) is pleased to announce that Charles N. Haas, Ph.D., will receive the NWRI Athalie Richardson Irvine Clarke Prize for pioneering and applying methods to assess and minimize health risks caused by exposure to disease-causing microorganisms (referred to as pathogens) in water and wastewater. Please join us in congratulating Dr. Haas on this prestigious achievement! Read more...

Save the Date: Mixed Methods

In partnership with the Office of Research, the Social Sciences Committee is pleased to announce a 2-part workshop on Writing Effective Mixed Methods/Multi-Method Grant Proposals. The purpose of the workshops is to increase participants' knowledge of MMR, develop a project or grant proposal, and receive feedback and mentorship. The workshop is open to all Drexel faculty members and will feature expert guest speakers Dr. Jason Seawright and Dr. Nataliya Ivankova, pair participants with Drexel faculty mentors, and foster collaborations among Drexel faculty. Please mark your calendars for Friday, Oct 13, 2017 and Friday, Jan 12, 2018. Registration and more information will be available in August.

Standard Research Terms & Conditions

In 2000, the Federal Demonstration Partnership (FDP), a cooperative initiative among numerous Federal agencies and institutional recipients of research funds aimed at reducing the administrative burdens associated with research grants and contracts, developed standard terms and conditions as a model implementation of OMB Circular A-110. These terms were an effective set of requirements for many agency research awards. Over the years, the standard Research Terms and Conditions (RTC) have been continuously updated as regulations evolved, including the OMB circulars and their subsequent replacement by the Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards, 2 CFR 200 (Uniform Guidance). Numerous federal grantors have formally incorporated the RTCs into their award mechanisms for research and research-related grants made to institutions of higher education and non-profit organizations, and more agencies are expected to adopt them going forward. The National Science Foundation (NSF) serves as the sponsor of the updated version of these RTCs. Read more...

Free Webinar on Foundation Funding

Interested in foundation grant funding? Please join Hanover Research Grants Consultants, Rebecca Huenik and Chris Nance for a free webinar: "Keys to Foundation Grant Success" on Tuesday August 8, 2017 from 12:00pm – 12:45pm. Click here to register today! Since 2012, Drexel has partnered with Hanover in market research for Drexel University Online (DUO). Past projects include market analysis for new or existing programs, Peer Benchmarking, Non-Matriculating and Prospective Student Surveys, and Tuition Sensitivity. In 2016, the Office of Research facilitated proposal development support for the Office of University and Community Partnerships, School of Education and the School of Public Health, the City of Philadelphia and numerous external partners for the $30-million, five-year Promise Neighborhood Implementation grant. Services included program and research design consulting, comprehensive review and critique, and proposal development management. This year, we are collaborating with Hanover on a strategic proposal development project to help increase individual faculty research productivity, currently piloting targeted grantsmanship and proposal development support for select faculty through Grants Academy and Review/Revision queues. For more information, please contact Gwynne Scheffer.
