WHAT IS THE PEER COUNSELING HELPLINE?
It is a peer support line established by and for Drexel students to provide information, peer support, and referrals. It is open to all currently enrolled full-time undergraduate and graduate students who wish to share a problem, need information, or just want to talk to an unbiased listener. It is a confidential, anonymous, and free phone service. It is staffed and managed by trained student volunteers. These students are knowledgeable about the variety of campus resources that are available to provide assistance. It is not staffed by professional counselors, nor is it a crisis hotline.

WHY DO PEOPLE USE THE PEER COUNSELING HELPLINE?
Students turn to the Peer Counseling Helpline for a wide range of issues. Calls often address academic concerns, relationship difficulties, loneliness, sexual health issues, stress, drug and alcohol questions, or sexuality issues. Students also contact us for referrals to other resources.

The Peer Counseling Helpline is available to provide an unbiased, supportive listening environment. Some issues are uncomfortable to discuss even with close friends or family; the Helpline’s confidentiality and anonymity provide a forum in which feelings can be comfortably expressed.

WHAT HAPPENS WHEN I CALL THE PEER COUNSELING HELPLINE?
You will speak with a Drexel student who is knowledgeable about various resources available both on- and off-campus. Listeners will aid you in exploring your feelings and considering your options. You will not know the listener’s identity nor will the listener know who you are, and the content of your call will not be discussed outside of the Peer Counseling Helpline.

BECOME A PEER COUNSELOR
Are you dedicated, an excellent listener, empathetic, and able to offer advice without sharing personal information, experiences, opinions, or values? Committed to helping others? Willing to volunteer your time?

For information about becoming a Peer Counselor, visit the Office of Counseling and Health website at drexel.edu/counselingandhealth/peer-counseling.

HOURS OF OPERATION
The Peer Counseling Helpline is open Monday through Thursday from 8 p.m. to midnight, with limited hours during the summer quarter. The Helpline is closed during breaks and University holidays.
