Notice of Alleged Violation sent to the Student's Drexel email from faculty member

Student responds to initial notification and is required to meet with the Faculty member

Accepts Responsibility

Faculty member imposes Academic Sanctions

Denies Responsibility

Student can choose to Appeal Academic Sanctions

Appeal Form (found online) must be submitted to the Dean of the College/School or designee of which the course was taken

Final decision and outcomes sent to Residential Living and Student Conduct

A final level of Appeal can be filed in writing to the Drexel University Provost or designee

Second and subsequent alleged violations of the Academic Integrity policy follow the general Student Conduct Process. In those cases, Academic Sanctions can be appealed through the Appeal Process detailed on this flowchart, and Conduct Sanctions can be appealed following the general Student Conduct Process.