This is more than the lives we’d save this year in Philadelphia if we could prevent deaths caused by heart disease, stroke, Alzheimer’s and diabetes combined. This number is also 30 times the amount of lives we usually lose each year due to the flu and pneumonia.