FIND YOUR PASSION AT THE CREATIVE HEART OF DREXEL UNIVERSITY

Westphal College of Media Arts & Design trains the next generation of scholars, thinkers, makers, and doers in the fields of media, entertainment, design, and the visual and performing arts. Westphal offers 17 undergraduate and eight graduate majors housed in award-winning facilities that encourage collaboration across creative disciplines. At Westphal, we reimagine the role of design, media, and the arts in building a better future. Our programs challenge students to center sustainability, access, and equity in their approaches to design, creative work, and scholarship. Through experiential learning, studio-based curriculum, and Drexel's widely recognized cooperative education (co-op) program, our students are uniquely positioned to face the world's challenges and define the creative careers of the 21st century. We are proud to be a part of a top university located right in the heart of the great City of Philadelphia, home to world-renowned cultural institutions, a rich arts and entertainment sector, and a community of businesses large and small that employ our students and graduates.

CO-OP OPPORTUNITIES

Drexel University's highly regarded cooperative education (co-op) program brings students out of the classroom and into the professional world, integrating at least six months of full-time work experience into your academic schedule. Westphal students find co-op employment in Philadelphia and across the globe with major film production companies, fashion houses, design firms, and more. Recent co-op employers include:

STATE OF THE ART FACILITIES

One of the fundamentals of a Westphal College education is the active, hands-on learning we provide in the studio environment—but not just any studio. Westphal offers spaces where students can see what their classmates are creating; where making labs can be shared by students from many majors; and where spontaneous and formal interactions take place daily, yielding creative connections. Westphal is home to:

- Eight recording studios
- Motion Capture Lab
- Hybrid Making Lab
- Computerized knit prototyping studio
- 3,500 square-foot gallery space
- World-renowned Fox Historic Costume Collection
- Immersive Research Lab for VR and AR
- Darkroom Photo Processing Lab
- Film and television post-production and audio post suites
- Black Box Theater
- Drexel Audio Archives— 7,000 historic Philadelphia music recordings

PERFORMING ARTS AT DREXEL

Every term, hundreds of Drexel students participate in performance ensembles through our programs in Dance, Theatre and Music. These student-performers come from every college on Drexel's campus. No matter your major, you can engage your passion for performing arts while at Drexel by taking classes, taking the stage, or working behind the scenes.
